ing Trouble Looms at s, New Orleans Court

AP) — The lence—over enrollment of James I. Meredith, a Negro, in the all-white university, loomed at Memphis and New Orleans.

Today's scheduled action comes in New Orleans, where Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson of Mississippi has been ordered by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to appear and show why he should not be held in contempt for blocking Meredith's third try at registration.

The lieutenant governor has not said if he will honor the summons.

Guilty of Contempt

Mississippi's Gov. Ross Barnett ignored a similar summons Friday. The eight-judge court found him guilty of civil contempt and demanded he purge himself by 11 a.m. Tuesday.

If he doesn't, the governor—battering ram of the state's head-on thrust against integration—faces a $10,000 daily fine and arrest. He would be held in custody of the U.S. attorney general.

Naked Bayonets

Still another shadow of trouble for the defiant Mississippians arose at Memphis, Tenn., 87 highway miles to the northwest. There, the federal government massed U.S. marshals and other federal peace officers. Giving them a housekeeping hand was a detachment of 110 Army engineers.

They bivouacked at Millington, Naval Air Station, where a source said the marshals numbered 402 at sundown Friday and that the number of troops actually had reached 540 instead of 110.

This source also said deter-

Oshkosh Man Was Hero in Plane Ditching

ANTWERP, Belgium (AP)—An Army private from Oshkosh, Wis., George Brown, was described Friday as an "absolute hero" by a stewardess on the Flying Tiger airliner which ditched in the Atlantic last Sunday.

Brown was one of three men with Wisconsin backgrounds who survived the crash. One Wisconsin man was among the 28 known dead or missing.

Carol Ann Gould of Lyndhurst, N.Y., told Friday how she took off her slip to stop the blood flowing from a head wound on Brown, a young paratrooper.

The 20-year-old pretty brunette, the only one of four stewardesses to survive, said Brown pulled 10 persons aboard a liferaft despite his injuries.

Lands Two Blows

Rev. King Attacked by 'Nazi Party' Member

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—He got a good right cross to Dr. King's left cheek, then he hit him on the back of the neck.

"He threw two blows, then dropped his arms. He muttered something about 'I'm sorry.'"

That was Wyatt Tee Walker's description after a white member of the American Nazi Party vaulted onto a stage and attacked Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., as the Negro integration leader spoke Friday.

The white man, Roy James, 24, of Arlington, Va., was quickly taken into Recorder's (city) court. Judge Charles H. Brown fined him $25 and sentenced him to 30 days in jail for assault and battery—disorderly conduct.

4-Day Meeting

The incident was the only act of violence here tracing to a four-day meeting of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, an integration group of which King is president.

King was giving a financial report near the end of the convention, and said Negro entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. would give a benefit performance for the SCLC in New York.

At that point James leaped from a sixth row seat, vaulted onto the stage, and hit King.

Walker, executive secretary of the SCLC, said James later told him that mention of Davis made him angry because the entertainer is married to white actress Mae Britt.

King Staggered

The blows staggered King. But he did not fall, and later refused to press charges.

U.S. Ready to Ban Undersea, Air H-Testing

Kennedy Gives U.S. Position to Gandhi Foundation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States remains willing to agree immediately to a ban on nuclear tests in the air and under water if a ban on all tests cannot be worked out, President Kennedy says.

He told representatives of the Gandhi Peace Foundation on Friday that such an agreement would represent a significant step toward curbing the arms race and the radioactive pollution of the atmosphere.

A White House statement setting forth Kennedy's position said the United States make a unilateral declaration it would cease atmospheric testing.

"Difficulty"

But the President, the statement said, pointed out "the difficulty of a proposal of this sort because of the previous Soviet breach of the moratorium."

The Soviet Union broke a three-year voluntary moratorium on nuclear testing a year ago with a series of tests. Since then the United States has resumed testing in the atmosphere and underground. Russia now is running off a second cycle of tests.

The Indian delegation, representing a private foundation, called on the President at the start of an international test-ban mission that will take it next to Paris and London. Another delegation is taking the foundation's appeal to Moscow.

In reaffirming U.S. willingness to agree to a ban on underwater and atmospheric tests, Kennedy said this country is "prepared to come to an agreement today."

Kennedy, the White House said, agreed with the Indian group "on the urgent necessity to bring about an agreed end to nuclear weapons testing" and that "early action should be taken to reduce the threat of war which nuclear and other weapons of mass destruction now pose."

The President said present U.S. disarmament proposals "address themselves to this key area of concern."

Krishna-Menon Says 'There's No Trouble' Between India, China

NEW YORK (AP)—V. K. Krishna Menon, Indian defense minister, left Friday night for New Delhi after telling newsmen "There is no trouble" on the Indian-Chinese border.

Menon was replying to a query on the shooting incidents that have taken place between Indian and Chinese Communist troops.

He had been in New York attending the United Nations General Assembly.

U.S. Nuclear Weapons In West Berlin Defense

George E. Leighty, left, president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, shakes hands with Ben W. Heineman, right, chairman of the Chicago and North Western Railway, in the labor department at Washington at a news conference in which settlement of the 30-day-old strike against the railroad was announced. North Western Rail Service May Resume Within 3 Days

Strike Settlement Announced Last Night by Kennedy

CHICAGO (AP)—Settlement of the 30-day Chicago and North Western Railway strike has given the green light to idle passenger and freight trains in nine states.

Freight and passenger service will resume "in a day or two or three," said North Western chairman Ben W. Heineman. The news related freight car-starved shippers of grain, livestock and sugar beets in the harvest-heavy Midwest.

Some 35,000 Chicago commuters have been promised full service when they go to work Monday morning.

Kennedy Announcement

President Kennedy announced the settlement late Friday night after Heineman and union officials, including 22 railroad brotherhood leaders, had met in the Washington office of Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

The pact set to arbitration four unsettled issues, including crucial questions on elimination of jobs by the railroad that triggered the strike by the Order of Railroad Telegraphers.

The company and union each are to name an arbitrator today, and agree jointly on the selection of a third arbitrator.

The arbitration board is to hand it down its final and binding decision on the disputed matters within 10 days.

Telegraphers walked off the job Aug. 30 in a dispute centered on job elimination procedures.

The agreement, mediated by Wirtz and federal mediator Francis A. O'Neill Jr., came after five days of talks on a dispute over back-to-work arrangements.

That dispute snagged negotiations when it appeared the telegraphers had agreed on most major issues.

The union wanted the 1,000 striking telegraphers, plus 15,500 other rail employees who respected picket lines, to return to work immediately. The company said it could not afford to do so until full operation was attained.

Concern Over 'Ole Miss' Crisis

'Save Human Blood, Even Lives,' Mississippi Solons Ask Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seven blood, even human lives, is in your hands, Mr. President," they said in a telegram Friday.

The seven declared the government's effort to enroll James H. Meredith, a Negro, in the all-white University of Mississippi was signed by Sens. James O. Eastland and John C. Stennis, and by these congressmen:

Thomas G. Abernethy, Jamie L. Whitten, Arthur Winstead, John Bell Williams and William M. Colmer.

The only other member of the delegation is Rep. Frank E. Smith, who is leaving Congress at the end of this session and has been appointed by the President to the Tennessee Valley Authority commission.

He issued a statement saying he has "conferred with the President and urged him to take every possible precaution to avoid the use of troops in Mississippi."

"Real Intention"

The Mississippians' telegram to Kennedy said the trouble has been "brought about by one person ostensibly to get an education. It is apparent this is not his real intention. This is obvious to all."

The telegram added: "Under prevailing circumstances and those that will follow for the remainder of the school year, probably much longer, it will be impossible for either the subject applicant or the 5,000 students to obtain any educational advantages. We respectfully submit, Mr. President, the successful registration would not be worth the price."

Warning to Soviets From McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States—speaking through Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara—has given the Russians clear notice it is ready to wield nuclear weapons if necessary to defend West Berlin.

McNamara wove this message into his report Friday—that he found nuclear-armed U.S. and West German ground and air units in a high state of combat readiness and in his measured declaration that:

"It is our policy to utilize whatever weapons are required to protect our vital interests, and we quite clearly consider access to Berlin a vital interest to the Western world and to the United States."

Pointed Discussion

Never before had McNamara coupled such a statement with a pointed discussion of the nuclear battlefield and air weapons arrayed in West Germany, facing the Iron Curtain.

Informed sources confirmed McNamara's intent, saying: "This is to tell them we have the nuclear power and we intend to use it."

McNamara refused to spell out the conditions under which U.S. nuclear weapons would be brought into play—for example, whether this would come only if Allied ground forces were in danger of being overwhelmed.

"Obviously, we are not going to define in advance of the act the specific circumstances under which we would use any particular military tactic or particular military weapon," the defense secretary said.

Kennedy Backing

It appeared obvious that McNamara spoke with the full backing of the White House.

The aim is to impress on the Russians that the United States is determined not to be pushed

Canada Rockets First Satellite Into Polar Orbit

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A Canadian spacecraft, the first designed and built by a nation other than the United States or the Soviet Union, roared into polar orbit early today.

Officials announced that the Canadian Alouette had nearly completed its first orbit shortly after midnight and was performing perfectly.

Its 150-by-75 foot radio antenna—the longest antenna ever carried into space—has been extended and signals have been received, officials said.

The satellite is designed to study disruptions in the ionosphere, an electrically charged layer of air which interferes with radio communications.

The disruptions are particularly severe in Canada's polar latitudes, and the country is seeking ways to overcome the effects. Results will be shared with other interested nations.

Goldwater Injured in Accident at Apartment

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., injured in a fall in his Washington apartment, has canceled all weekend speaking engagements on the advice of his physician.

Goldwater told newsmen Friday night that he strained some chest muscles Wednesday when he lost his balance while replacing burned out light bulbs.

Although the pain has lessened, Goldwater said, his doctor suggested that he rest this weekend.

59 Per Cent of Xavier Boys Attend College

48 of 81 Graduates In Schools, Others Work, Join Military

Fifty-nine per cent of the boys in Xavier High School's first graduating class are attending college, according to a survey made by Robert Detloff, guidance director of the boys' department.

Of 81 boys in the class of 1962, 48 are attending college. The University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center leads the list of colleges preferred with 21 of the graduates enrolled there. St. Norbert College is second with 10 Xavier alumni in attendance. Alumni also are enrolled at 11 other colleges.

Ten of the graduates are preparing for a career in teaching, while 11 are studying business administration and commerce. Eleven of the other alumni are taking vocational training, with the Appleton Vocational and Adult School enrolling the greatest number.

Eight of the boys have joined the armed forces, and 15 hold jobs.

Another survey of the graduates will be made after the end of the first semester. Sister Mary Sebastian, guidance director of the girls' department, is preparing a similar study.

Psychologist To Start Series

Marquette Teacher To Give First Lecture In 'Alumni College'

Raymond J. McCall, professor of psychology, will give the opening lecture Tuesday in the Marquette University Alumni College series in Appleton.

Prof. McCall will speak at 8 p. m. in the Commons of Xavier High School. His lecture will be on "The Psychological Image of Man."

McCall, psychologist and philosopher, joined Marquette's faculty in 1956 and served for five years as chairman of the psychology department and head of the Guidance Center.

He is a past president of the American Catholic Psychological Association and a former Ford Foundation fellow at Harvard University.

McCall holds the A. B. and Ph. D. in philosophy from Fordham and the M. A. and Ph. D. in psychology from Columbia University. He is author of "Basic Logic" and of "A Preface to Scientific Psychology."

The Alumni College series, "Images of Modern Man," will continue each Tuesday in October at Xavier High School. The series is presented by the University in cooperation with the Marquette Fox Cities Alumni Association.

Street Department Misses Lanterns

The Appleton street department reported to police it is missing at least six street lanterns from two locations in the city.

Three lanterns were taken from an alley in the 500 block behind College Avenue Thursday. Three others were taken from a city parking lot over the weekend.

Famed Organist Plays Unseen Maesch Theme

Anton Heiller Improvises on Work By Lawrence Conservatory Director

BY JACK RUDOLPH
Press-Gazette Staff Writer

The St. Norbert Abbey Church organ has known the touch of several outstanding organists in its brief existence. Never, however, have its powers been tested as they were by Anton Heiller Thursday evening.

Nowhere was his command of the instrument more decisively shown than in the closing portion of his program when he improvised on a submitted theme.

The subject was one presented on request by La Vahn Maesch, head of Lawrence College Conservatory of Music. Composed specially for the event by Maesch, it was sealed in an envelope and presented to Heiller while he was seated at the console at the end of the prepared program.

Within seconds of his first glance at it, the organist was at work, weaving a web of on-the-spot harmonies, tempo and tone color in ever more complicated patterns. He kept it up without repeating himself for 15 minutes.

Audience Spellbound
The Viennese master presented the first of a series of winter recitals at the abbey console last night and for nearly two hours held a highly knowledgeable audience spellbound. If it is true that it takes years to explore fully the potential of an organ, the abbey's Cassevent was given a glimpse of distant frontiers.

Heiller drew hitherto unheard sounds from the huge instrument with a combination of breath-taking technique and superb artistry. Only the experts, probably, could fully appreciate his technique, which produced tone of crystal clarity, warmth and great accuracy.

The artistry was obvious to everybody. It was based on solid training, full command of the instrument and impeccable style. Heiller held his virtuosity in firm check, playing with a flowing, subdued tone most of the time. It was sometimes dry but never cold, with a warmth of color and expression always lurking just beneath the surface.

Program Ideal
His program was ideally suited to the art. Its heart was the towering genius of Johann Sebastian Bach, but the way to Bach was cleared by a miniature summary of German organ music of the 17th and 18th centuries.

By itself this would have convinced anyone that the program was ideal.

Police Reduce Count Against Man Charged With Drunken Driving

A charge against an Appleton man of driving while intoxicated was reduced to drunkenness by Kimberly Police Chief Quenfin Williams, who said an investigation showed the man was not driving a car at the time of his arrest.

Roger Van Epern, 30, 1824 N. Oneida St., was sentenced to 10 days in the Outagamie County jail under Huber law conditions. He appeared today in Outagamie County Court, Branch 2.

He was arrested Aug. 25 in Kimberly and charged with drunken driving and tested .22 on a drunkometer examination. A reading of .15 is evidence of intoxication.

Williams said, however, Van Epern told the doctor he was not driving the vehicle when he was arrested by a Kimberly police officer. Williams said he questioned the doctor and the policeman before reducing the charge.

Assessment Rolls Open On Thursday

NEENAH—Public inspection of the real estate assessed valuation rolls will be held from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Thursday at the City Hall, Assessor Carlton Williams announced today.

The last of the informal hearings by wards was held today and close to 500 persons are expected to have met with the assessors to review the valuations on their property.

This is only about 7 per cent of the 7,200 property owners to whom notices were sent, he said. Normally, about 10 per cent come for such informal meetings and in some places it has been as high as 20 per cent.

Forty-five property owners have taken out applications to appear before the Board of Review which will meet to hear all arguments for assessment reductions at 10 a. m. Oct. 8 but only seven have filed those applications with the assessor's office.

Power Company Fetes Man for 40 Years Service
P. M. Sonkowsky, 1562 Oneida St., completing 40 years' service with Wisconsin Michigan Power Company, was honored recently at a testimonial dinner in recognition of his long service.

Sonkowsky started with the Power Company in 1922 as a first class line man and he came a foreman in 1925. In 1937 he was named general line foreman. His present position is assistant superintendent of electric overhead operations.

Early in his career he was placed in charge of maintenance for Appleton's electric street railway system, the first successful operation of its kind in the world. He was also a long time member of Appleton's Street Lighting Committee.

He and his wife, Loretta, are lifelong residents of Appleton.

Man Confined For Contributing To Delinquency
Thomas Lom, 27, 1128 W. Lawrence St., was sentenced to the Outagamie County jail for 364 days charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Lom was granted privilege of the Huber law and was given permission to stay away from the jail for extended periods of time. He is a truck driver and is frequently out of town, his employer told the court.

The man was also ordered to begin making back payments to the Catholic Apostolate for support of his three children. Lom, who owes $2,513 to the organization, was ordered to make $10 per week payments. He was arrested Sept. 13 when he was seen buying beer in a tavern with a 17-year-old girl.

Mr. X, Awaiting Trial, Asks To Vote in Jail; Can He?
Mr. X has a problem. He finds himself confined in jail pending trial but wants to make sure that he votes in the Nov. 6 general election.

The man doesn't want to get out of jail for election day. He wants to cast his vote by absentee ballot, providing it's legal.

City Clerk Eldon Broehm received a letter this week from the county jail "resident" and it appears that an opinion will be in order from the city attorney before a reply can be forwarded to Mr. X.

"I find myself in rather a peculiar situation," wrote Mr. X. "I am currently being held in the Outagamie County jail pending trial and my trial date is set for Nov. 16."

Wants to Know Rights
"I would like to know if the fact that I am being held for trial impairs in any way my right to vote in the upcoming election," Mr. X continued.

"If it does, I would like to know on what authorization this right is so impaired. If it doesn't, I would like to know what process I have to undergo to obtain a write-in ballot," he concluded.

The letter writer, according to jail records, is awaiting trial on burglary and theft.

Answer Sought
"I really don't know the legal answer right now and have requested the city attorney to render an opinion," said Broehm, whose usual problem is getting people registered so they will get to the polls at election time and vote.

City Atty. Fred Froehlich said the jailed man has not been found guilty of a crime or sentenced so the circumstances do not interfere with his voting rights.

"After all, any person charged with a crime is presumed innocent until proven guilty," Froehlich said.

"I don't think the man's voting privilege is taken away just because he is sitting in jail awaiting trial," he added.

Froehlich said he would check the statute books and give an opinion to guide the city clerk.

Your Problems

Mother-in-Law Represented, Without Vote in Son's Affairs

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've been reading your column long enough to know you'd like it just fine if all mothers-in-law were lined up with sacks over their heads and shot at sunrise. The question I want to ask is this: At what point can a mother-in-law open up her mouth and tell a sloppy, lazy, daughter-in-law to clean her house?

My son grew up in a home which was immaculate. He always had three nourishing meals a day and there wasn't a wrinkle in his bed sheets. He never complains about his wife's terrible house-keeping, but when I see what goes on over there I get sick. They have three children under five years of age and I have to wash their faces to tell who's who. My daughter-in-law keeps saying she wants three more babies in the next six years which I think is disgraceful. She never gets her washing and ironing done as it is. I don't think she should burden my son with any additional expenses and turmoil until she gets better organized.

I've never had any real trouble with her because I've suffered in silence. But a mother can stand only so much. Do you agree?

F. P.
Dear F. P.: If it's real trouble you're after, just tell your daughter-in-law not to have any more children until she organizes her housework. This would put an end to your suffering at the sight of her dirty house because you wouldn't be welcome over there to look at it.

What goes on between your son and his wife is strictly their business. Stay out of it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: There is a small argument in our office. Three girls are involved. I say you do a woman a favor when you tell her she has lipstick on her teeth. The other two girls insist it should not be mentioned. They take the position it's rude to criticize a person's appearance and it's best to say nothing and let the girl find out for herself.

May I hear from you on this? Lily and Millie versus Tillie.

Dear Tillie: If Lily and Millie would prefer to walk around the office with red teeth, let them. As for me, I'd consider an act of friendship if someone tips me off. I'm recently certain that most women agree with me—and with you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I have been married for 14 years. We are in our middle thirties and, unfortunately, we do not have children. I've made the usual heartbreaking round of doctors, but without success. I know now that adoption is the only answer.

About seven years ago my husband and I were separated. He wanted a divorce. I did not. Eventually he wore me down and persuaded me to file. A few months later we met to discuss the divorce and he decided he had been foolish so we patched things up. Now I'm beginning to wonder if perhaps this blemish on our marital record is spoiling our chances to adopt a baby. We've had our names in at several agencies for years now but we have not been called. Can you tell me?

— Patiently Waiting
Dear Waiting: I discussed your inquiry with three excellent adoption agencies and they all gave me essentially the same answer.

Once a divorce is filed it's a matter of record. In the light of the subsequent reconciliation,

The YMCA Women's League will be the setting at 7:30 p. m. Monday for a meeting of the Y Garden Club. A panel composed of Mrs. Franks Vaurio, chairman, Mrs. C. L. Garey and Mrs. Kyle Ward Jr., will answer members' questions on getting flowers ready for winter.

The St. Mary's Home-School Association will have an open house at 8 p. m. Tuesday to give parents an opportunity to meet the teachers.

St. Johanna Court 555, Women's Catholic Order of Foresters will hold a business meeting Tuesday after Perpetual Help services at the church. Mrs. John H. Van Asten will serve as delegate and Mrs. Charles Muelemans, alternate, at the Diocesan Institute Tuesday at Lourdes High School, Oshkosh.

Mrs. John VanderWyst, 1109 N. Richmond St., will serve as hostess for the 7:45 p. m. Tuesday meeting of the Appleton Police Wives Club.

A noon luncheon will precede the monthly meeting Thursday of the Geo. Eggleston Woman's Relief Corp. at Castle Hall.

Mrs. Lulu Kolberg, Two Rivers, will preside over the District 14 meeting at 2 p. m. Wednesday of the Deborah Rebekah Lodge at Odd Fellows Hall. Mrs. Janette Erickson, Hudson, warden, will be the visiting state officer. The "Kimberly" will entertain during the 6 p. m. dinner. The Deborah Rebekah Lodge 13 will hold its regular meeting at 8 p. m.

Foster School PTA will hold its first meeting of the school year Thursday, with a potluck dinner at 6:30 p. m., a short business meeting at 7:30 p. m., and five discussion meetings.

Alvin Bennett, art coordinator, will conduct the kindergarten

Thomists Plan Lectures on 'Modern Mind'

Illinois Pastor To Give Series Starting Oct. 7

The Appleton-Oshkosh chapter of the Thomist Association has announced a lecture series on "Formation of the Modern Mind" for the 1962-1963 season, starting Oct. 7.

The Rev. Humbert W. Crilly, O. P., of the Dominican House of Studies, River Forest, Ill., who gave the lectures last year, will continue this year with part two of the series.

Father Crilly will consider recent ideological factors which influence modern thinking, often influencing attitudes and decisions subconsciously. He will analyze problems of evolution, Communism, existentialism, Freudianism and atomic physics in the light of Thomistic principles.

Basic Ideas

The series will cover the basic ideas and influence of such men as Freud, Dewey, Santayana, Whitehead, Russell, Kierkegaard, Bergson, Heidegger and Sartre, and will cover the meaning of scientism, linguistic analysis and other modern thought.

The Thomist course is non-credit and is designed to be of general interest without prerequisite foundation. The public is invited to attend the first lecture as guests of the chapter. College students will be welcomed to all lectures without charge.

The lectures will be held on Sunday mornings at the Mercy Hospital School of Nursing auditorium, Oshkosh, and will be preceded by mass at 8:15 a.m. in the chapel and breakfast in the hospital cafeteria.

Miss Agnes Mullen, Appleton, and Herbert Wall, Oshkosh, are joint chairmen of the Thomist chapter.

New Church Given Name

Our Redeemer to Be Organized by Lutheran Body

Our Redeemer Evangelical Lutheran Church will be the name of the new Lutheran parish being sponsored in southwest Appleton by the Lutheran Church in America, the Rev. Charles W. Briggs, pastor, has announced.

The first services of the new congregation will be Sunday. Services will be at 9 a.m. and 11 a.m., and Sunday school will be at 10 a.m.

Plan Services

Services will be held in a temporary chapel purchased by the congregation at 407 E. Calumet St.

Thirty-four families have registered for the new congregation, and 72 children have enrolled in the Sunday school.

A steering committee for the congregation has been appointed by the pastor. Officers are C. A. Brockman, chairman; Wesley Westbrock, secretary; and Maynard Kunsche, treasurer.

Others Listed

Other committee members are Henry Konow, Richard Van De Weghe, Ronald Budweiser, Lee Bergman, Gerald Lehning, Jarvis Girard, Gary Mortensen and Vel Kapitzke.

The pastors and church council of Trinity Lutheran Church are cooperating with the development of the new mission.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

(AP Newsfeatures)

A Severe Heart Attack at the age of 46 was a blessing in disguise to Jesse Stuart.

When it happened, the work of the busy Kentuckian—poetry, novels, lectures—came to a halt. Convalescing at his home deep in the Cumberland Mountains he had time, at last, to contemplate the searching questions of God and man and nature.

"This year especially," he wrote, "I am glad to be alive in April, I am more a part of it. Reborn myself, I shall watch more carefully the rebirth going on all around me . . . Where God is scientist, I see resurrection with my own eyes. I feel confident—I have faith—that where man, the seed of God, is planted in the ground, though his husk will go back to the earth, he will be resurrected into a new life, for this is the law of God."

Xavier Lectures Will Begin Oct. 8

Bible Study, Current Topics To Highlight 1962-63 Program

Five courses will be offered this fall in the continuing education program of Xavier High School, now entering its third year.

This fall's program will feature a series of lectures by members of the St. Norbert College faculty on "Current Questions and Issues," and a course on Latin America by Maryknoll missionaries.

Other courses to be offered will be "Modern Man and the Bible," "The Meaning of Christ for Our Times," and a "Lay Catechist Institute."

Open to Public

The classes, open to the general public, will start Oct. 8. Each of the five courses will consist of 10 lectures, meeting at 7:30 p.m. Mondays at Xavier.

College credits are not required for any of the courses, and the classes are not given for credit.

Boulet

Burke

Students may register at the time of the first class. The course fee is $5.

The program is sponsored by the Bay diocesan department of education. The Rev. Alfred Lison, Xavier chaplain, is director of the program, and can give additional information on it.

To Open Series

Clifford Boulet, assistant to the president of St. Norbert College, will open the series by St. Norbert faculty members on "Current Questions and Issues," with a lecture on "America and the Common Market."

Other lecturers from St. Norbert will be the Rev. Dennis Burke, O. Praem, college president; the Rev. Vincent DeLeers, college dean; William Vickery on the "Humanities," and Thomas Phelan of the department of philosophy.

William Hankfus will discuss "Law in Modern Society." The Rev. Albin V. Veszelsky, O. Praem., will speak on the topic, "Why Does Communism Succeed and Why We Are Losing." James Regan will discuss the "Philosophy of Communism," and Mel Nicks will speak on "Physical Fitness, U.S.A."

Look at Latin Maryknoll

The Rev. Thomas Adams of Maryknoll will act as coordinator for the course entitled "Looking to Latin America." Members of the American Foreign Mission Society (Maryknoll missionaries from Milwaukee, will give an analysis of the economic, social, political, religious and educational structure of the countries of Latin America.

The Rev. Gerald Falk, assistant pastor at St. Mary Church, Appleton, will conduct the course on "The Meaning of Christ for Our Times." Using his background in summer institutes, seminars and active parish work, he will treat the subject of the "Incarnation and the Church Today."

The Rev. Jerome Koerner, assistant pastor at Holy Cross Church, Kaukauna, will teach the course on "Modern Man and the Bible." He has done graduate study in Holy Scripture at St. John's Abbey, Collegeville, Minn., under noted Biblical scholars. The topic for this course will be the Book of Genesis.

To Prepare Teachers

Sister Gustava, S.S.N.D., St. Joseph parish, will teach the lay catechist institute, which will prepare parish teachers to give religious instruction to young people who do not attend parochial schools. Sister Gustava has had extensive work at Marquette University in this area. The course will examine both methods of teaching and subject matter.

Depending upon the instructor and the material, the classes ordinarily will consist of a 50-minute lecture and, after a break, informal discussion with student participation.

The continuing education program at Xavier High School is now entering its third year. Ninety students were enrolled the first year, and 209 last year.

Vocational Schools Will Offer Course For Private Fliers

The Fox Cities vocational and adult schools will offer a ground school for private fliers starting Nov. 1.

The course is planned for student pilots and those working for a private pilot's rating, and as a refresher for those working for a commercial pilot's rating. Men and women are eligible for the course.

It will cover civil air regulations, meteorology, air navigation, radio and general safety practice. Classes will meet at the Appleton Vocational and Adult School from 7 to 9:30 p.m. on Thursdays, starting Nov. 1. There will be 40 hours of class in 16 sessions.

Wes Kolbe, who has an FAA ground instructor certificate, will teach the course.

Vocational schools in Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Kaukauna and Kimberly are cooperating in offering the course.

Basic House Plant Culture Discussed by Homemakers

OSHKOSH — The essentials of house plant culture and requirements for best growth were discussed at a county-wide homemaker's meeting Wednesday afternoon in the courthouse lounge.

Demonstrations were conducted for proper soil mixture according to type of house plant grown, soil treatment before potting of house plant, proper containers, temperature and light requirements, propagation of house plants, and disease and insect control.

County Agent Vernon Peroutky conducted the demonstrations and led discussion. Local commercial florists provided materials for the meeting. About 75 women attended.

The afternoon program was concluded with a tour of Sterling Gardens, Oshkosh. Ray Last,

Green Bay Harbor Bill Given Okay

Would Provide 24-Foot Depth In Fox River

Past-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Authorization for a $4,270,000 project to make Green Bay a deep-draft harbor was voted by a sub-committee of the U. S. Senate public works committee.

Similar authorization was voted Wednesday by a subcommittee of the House public works committee.

It is expected that the Green Bay harbor project, together with navigation and flood control projects proposed throughout the country, will be reported out to congress in omnibus bills following approval of individual projects listed in each of the bills now in committee.

The measures, it is anticipated, will be cleared late today, thus making it possible for them to be enacted in the Senate and House next week, before adjournment.

4 Feet Deep

The measure for deepening the Green Bay harbor provides for an entrance channel 26 feet and a depth of 24 feet in the Fox River channel through the city.

The authorized depth of the harbor channel now is 22 feet, considerably less than the 27-foot depth established in the St. Lawrence Seaway locks and the Welland Canal around Niagara Falls. It also is less than the 30-ft. depth being established in the connecting channels between several of the Great Lakes.

Smaller Cargoes

Deepening of the harbor, according to John F. Sainsbury, Brown County port director, would allow large Great Lakes bulk vessels and overseas freighters to load and unload near-capacity cargoes here.

At present ships with larger capacity must call here with less than-capacity cargoes because of the 22-foot depth limitation.

The over-all navigation projects authorization bills now in congressional committees also include plans for deepening of three other Wisconsin ports.

The navigation and flood control measures are authorization bills. Before funds are released for actual construction, they must first be approved by congressional appropriations committees and foot outboard runabout in excellent condition. He also owns a motor scooter which assists him materially in covering his news-authorization bills for rivers and paper route. During "spare time" harbors and flood control projects Dwight practices his piano lessons year, to be followed by the sons which he pays for out of his funding, or appropriations bills, earnings.

Other portions of his profits are channeled to his Church offerings, not been previously authorized a Christmas Club account and generally are not included in the purchasing boating equipment and clothes.

Christian Scientists To Dedicate Church

Rites Will Be Conducted Sunday For Edifice Built Eight Years Ago

Members of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, will dedicate their church Sunday with services at 10:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Eight years ago the first service was held in the present building. Dedication services for a Christian Science Church are not held until the church is entirely free of debt.

It was in 1894 that an interest in Christian Science first started in Appleton. A room on the third floor of a building at 108 E. College Avenue was used for services. A Sunday School was organized the same year.

On Feb. 25, 1896, First Church of Christ, Scientist, Appleton, was organized with 14 members. The first Christian Science lecture was given on May 17, 1904, in the Opera House on Oneida Street.

Buy Property

At a special meeting of the church members in February, 1911, the directors were instructed to purchase the property on E. Franklin street where the First Methodist Church now stands. The dwelling was remodeled for a church and reading room use that spring. This building was dedicated on Sunday, Nov. 18, 1917.

In July, 1923, the property was sold to the First Methodist Church to complete its building site. On May 1, 1923, arrangements to purchase the property at 323 N. Durkee St. were completed. The dwelling was remodeled and the first service was held there July 4, 1923.

In 1946, a site for a new church building at Badger Avenue and Harris Street was purchased. The Durkee Street property was sold to St. Paul Lutheran Church as a site for a new school. Peabody Hall in the Lawrence Conservatory of Music was used for church services and Sunday school from December, 1953, to September, 1954, while the new church edifice capacity must call here with less than-capacity cargoes because of the 22-foot depth limitation.

The over-all navigation projects authorization bills now in congressional committees also include plans for deepening of three other Wisconsin ports.

Lest We Get Smug

The Fox Cities area has experienced an inspiring growth in the last two decades, but lest we get smug about it we should take a look at what has happened to the state of Pennsylvania in the same period of time.

Pennsylvania has seen its three basic industries go into a steep decline—coal, steel and railroads. To hold down labor costs these industries traditionally fought against new industries coming into their so-called "company towns." And the state is now reaping a bitter harvest. With a steady unemployment figure of between 350,000 and 400,000, it is second only to West Virginia in the persistence of its economic hardships.

Oil and natural gas began replacing coal before World War II. Out of the laboratories came new materials like plastics to deal the steel industry a heavy blow. And the growth of turnpikes and expressways cut heavily into the cargoes carried by rail.

Many of Pennsylvania's textile plants went south in search of cheaper labor. While the state once had 50 per cent of the nation's defense contracts in tanks, heavy vehicles, guns and ammunition, it quickly found itself out of a defense business stressing missiles, rockets, electronic devices and planes.

Pennsylvania is fighting back. The Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority, making second mortgage loans up to 40 per cent of a project, has created nearly 40,000 new jobs. But a recurring phrase heard throughout the state is "we have to run to stand still."

With area redevelopment and manpower training programs, coupled with a relentless drive to induce new plants to locate in the state, officials believe they can eventually lick the problem. Pennsylvania still has much to offer; it's strategically located near three of the nation's largest harbors, a fine road network, adequate educational facilities and a fairly skilled work force.

One field Pennsylvania is eyeing is the $12 billions now being spent by the federal government on research and development. They are planning research and development complexes they hope will create new products, new industries and new jobs.

But Pennsylvania is an excellent object lesson in smugness.

The growth in the Fox Cities is due mainly to the paper and allied industries. These are stable industries but this area should be looking now to what are known as the "21st Century Industries" for future potential.

And just as the Institute of Paper Chemistry has contributed much to the growth of our paper industry, we are going to have to start thinking about research and development facilities in other fields to develop new industries in this area.

Sororities and Discrimination

A faculty committee on human rights at the University of Wisconsin at Madison has recommended that the women's sorority, Delta Gamma, be banned from the campus because it is violating the university's anti-discrimination rules. We are sympathetic to those rules and agree that they belong in a publicly supported institution. But we wonder whether the faculty committee has not gone rather far afield for evidence to back up its charges.

Actually the impetus behind the move came from the investigation by national officers of Delta Gamma of a chapter at Beloit college allegedly because it pledged a Negro girl. Basing the selection of members of a fraternity or sorority upon color or race is pretty silly but we would not deny that right to a group operating completely without public support. Some of the other criteria used in choosing pledges are not much more honorable. The faculty committee may infer that Delta Gamma must have national restrictions against girls of other races than the Caucasian. But in the absence of open rules, how can the matter be proved?

The committee surely is not going to frown upon every group which does not have a member of a minority race on its roster. In Wisconsin, with the high percentage of Caucasians, the demand is unrealistic. Moreover its result would be the exact opposite of the anti-discrimination ban since fraternities or sororities would be choosing members because they were a different color or a different race.

State Control of Branch Banking

If Wisconsin is to have branch banking in the near future it will come by action of its own legislature rather than from a decision by the federal government. That apparently was the message from the American Bankers Association holding its convention in Atlantic City.

The Bankers Association officially rejected the proposal by Controller of the Currency James J. Saxon and his advisory committee that national banks be permitted to set up branches regardless of the laws of their home states.

Saxon and his 24-man advisory committee had issued a report containing 84 recommendations for changes in the national bank laws and regulations. Among them was the proposal for national bank branches.

Sam M. Fleming, retiring president of the association, expressed the association's appreciation of the work of this committee. He said the proposals would be studied with care but he served notice that the A.B.A. intends no change in its present stand which is in favor of state control over branching for both state and national banks.

He said, "Historically, the dual system of banking is composed of two elements—one federally chartered and the other state chartered. One of the main reasons this system has thrived is that the federal government has not been permitted to overrule the judgment of the 50 states with respect to banking structure and branching practice.

"It is the considered view of your association that this right of the respective states must be preserved."

Thus, at a time when states' rights are being challenged by many branches of the national government, the American Banking Association is solidly committed to the principle that state control over branch banking should be preserved

Pesticides Save Us From Disaster

What would happen if the United States were to go through one year without pesticides? This question is raised and answered in an article entitled "The Desolate Year" published in Monsanto Magazine, a publication of the Monsanto Chemical Company.

As the desolate year began man was aware that everywhere about him unseen and unheard were bugs. They were on, under or about every square foot of land, every acre, in every county and state in the United States. They were under the ground, beneath the waters, on the limbs and twigs of trees, in stocks of corn, under rocks, inside trees and animals and inside man himself waiting for their hour to strike. They were not to be counted in thousands or millions or billions but in fact by trillions. They were there as eggs or larvae or pupae or as voracious adults. In one small cubicle underground were 100,000 mosquito mothers ready to begin their business of reproduction. In a cornfield were tens of thousands of caterpillars hidden away in the fodder.

Along a single fence row were thousands of tiny white-winged black cinch bugs. Scattered about the fields were millions of grasshopper eggs and nymphs. A Florida citrus grower found a pierced and wormy grapefruit and saw a Medfly flit away. A New York housewife found her apartment crawling with ticks. No section of the country was safe from moths in the clothing, furniture and carpet. All were helpless against bedbugs, silverfish and fleas. Without insecticides there was no defense. No crop was safe from the cutworms living underground, the mites, the aphids and the butterflies, the green worms, tan worms, striped worms and spotted worms all hungry and eating.

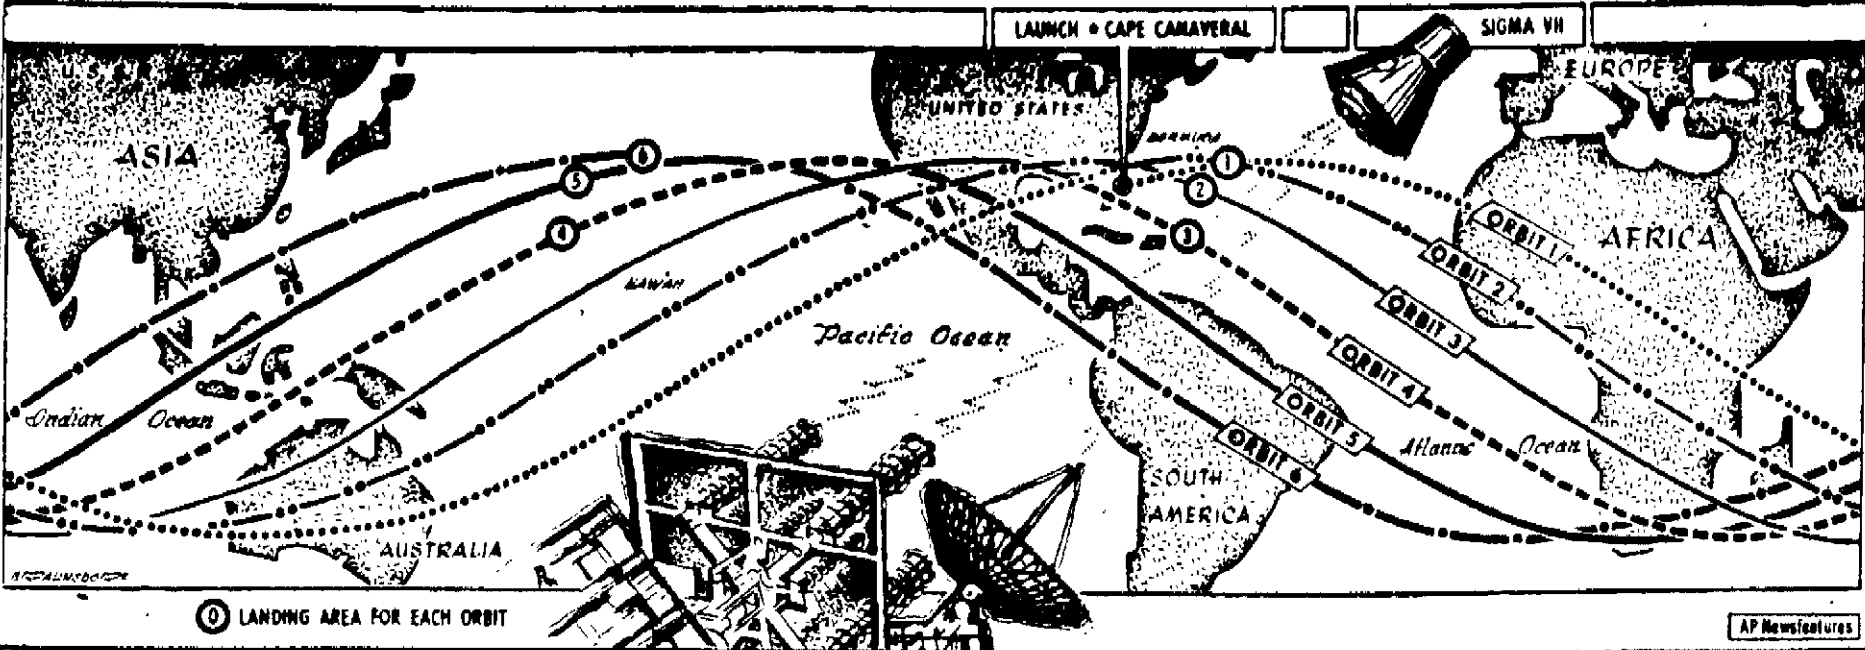

Finally there were beetles and bugs and skeletonizers feeding on the leaves of growing vegetables and another group of their fellow workers invading the hulls and pods and infesting them with eggs and other matter. No matter how well the farmers cultivated, their crops were utter failures.

Some will ask how it was that we raised crops before we had the pesticides. How did the Indians cultivate their corn and produce their crops before the white man arrived? Well, many of the pests today were not here before the white man came. Some of them were brought with the white man and others have been brought in by white man's commerce since that day. For example, the Mediterranean fruit fly was discovered in Florida grapefruit in April, 1929. It spread over thousands of acres of citrus and threatened to wipe out the industry.

The Colorado potato beetle moved across the United States at the rate of 85 miles a year until 1870 when chemical pesticides were used as the only means of producing potatoes. Furthermore, without pesticides the potato crop was subject to the same blight that caused the famine in Ireland in 1845. The spread of these pests is illustrated well by the experience of a Korean war veteran who had returned to this country in 1952. He suffered a relapse and the mosquitoes which bit him during the relapse transmitted malaria to nine other persons who suffered attacks that fall. Twenty-five more people came down with the disease in various parts of the state the next spring.

The editors of the magazine point out that the conditions they describe are factual. Each incident has occurred at some time in this country. For the purpose of the story they have put them all together into one year to show what would happen if we went for a year without this necessary protection.

BY SID MOODY

"I shot an arrow into the air
"It fell to earth, I know not where."

What's true with arrows will not be true when the United States fires aloft Walter Schirra, its third orbiting astronaut. Schirra, flight (see map) will be tracked by an intricate communications network that includes radar, sophisticated radio equipment, computers and other gear all knitted together by 140,000 miles of transmission lines and cables. Eighteen stations around the world will be tracking the Sigma 7 Mercury capsule of the 39-year-old Navy commander.

Ships and planes are deploying all over the world to pick up the astronaut where-soever on earth he lands.

If Schirra completes his planned six orbits, he will come down in the Pacific north of Wake Island. If the National Aeronautics and Space Administration decides to terminate the flight after three or less orbits, Schirra will come down in the Atlantic as did his two orbiting American predecessors, Lt. Col. John Glenn and Lt. Comdr. Malcolm Scott Carpenter.

Prime Tasks

Schirra's prime tasks in space will be to study the medical and aeronautical effects of prolonged weightlessness. His six orbits are the limit of the capabilities of the existing Mercury-Atlas rocket configuration.

It is planned for Schirra's capsule to spin freely in space during the third, fourth and part of the fifth orbits to conserve the fuel that positions the spacecraft through tiny jets.

Carpenter ran dangerously low of this fuel during his trip earlier this year.

If the flight goes as planned, Schirra will be recovered by surface ships of the U.S. Navy.

However, the Air Force has a group of 63 parascuumen who have been trained in parachuting to rescue the astronaut and his capsule with its valuable flight data. The 'chutists are trained skin divers as well as mechanics and have had medical instruction should the astronaut need emergency treatment.

Rescue Aircraft

The Air Force is positioning rescue aircraft that could reach any spot in the world with its parascuumen within 18 hours. This gives them a leeway of six hours to home on the capsule's beacon which has power to operate 24 hours. The capsule can also emit smoke signals.

The Air Rescue Service of the Military Air Transport Service has available 48 aircraft on standby with receivers that could pick up the capsule's signals from as far out as 60 miles. Radar would guide them to the capsule should it miss its pre-arranged landing area.

The communications system provides constant two-way radio contact between the orbiting capsule and the ground and for transmission of instrument readings and remote control of flight equipment. The system uses leased wires of commercial carriers, submarine cables, microwave towers and high frequency radio.

Computers based at NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center in Maryland takes the radar and radio information and give a continuous estimate of the capsule's "then" position.

At Mercury Control Center at Cape Canaveral, Fla., where the launch will occur, meters or graphs will be monitoring approximately 30 sensors relaying data from the capsule. Data from 70 other sensors will be recorded for future analysis.

Of particular interest in Schirra's upcoming flight is whether he suffers any of the sickness reported by the Russian cosmonaut Titov during his 17-orbit trip in 1961. Titov complained of illness after his fifth orbit.

Two later Soviet cosmonauts who were up several days last month reported no ill effects from the flight.

What may be of more concern to Schirra is how well he can withstand seasickness while waiting to be picked up from the wide open spaces of the Pacific Ocean.

Can't Draw a Sharp Line

Civilian Space Spending Can Aid Military Defense Development

BY ROBERT S. BOYD

Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — Are we spending too little on the military uses of space?

That's a hot question in Washington. It's been argued in congress, and President Kennedy has been challenged to defend his program, which assigns 72 per cent of this year's space budget to the civilian space agency instead of to the Pentagon.

I. A. Gettings, president of Aerospace Corp., told the National Rocket Club on Sept. 18 that the country is "risking unilateral disarmament" in space by failing to give the military a larger role.

Dr. Edward C. Welsh, executive secretary of the National Aeronautics and Space Council, which co-ordinates the entire U. S. space program, told the Air Force Association today that the Soviet "space gap" is putting us at a military disadvantage.

What do the spending figures show?

Cost Billions

From the day Sputnik I opened the space age five years ago, through next June, the United States will have invested $11.3 billion in space — nearly half of it in the current year alone.

Of this sum — the equivalent of a stack of dollar bills stretching 2,000 miles into space — $4.8 billion will have been spent by the defense department and $6.5 billion by the Civilian National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

On the surface, this looks as though 43 per cent of the space dollars have gone for military purposes and 57 per cent for peaceful ends.

However, Dr. Welsh points out, you can't draw a sharp line between military and peaceful space spending.

Helps Defense

"Defense advantages can and do come from space expenditures made by other agencies," he told the air force officers.

For example, the difference between the $1.5 billion military space budget and the $3.8 billion civilian space budget this year is mainly due to the man-on-the-moon project, which has been somewhat arbitrarily labeled peaceful.

"The defense spin-off from the lunar project is very substantial," Welsh said.

"The development of large rockets, the ability to rendezvous in space, the development of life-protective measures and the refinement of control and guidance systems, all have high defense value.

"The lunar trip is not a substitute for military competence in space," he said, "but it helps develop that competence."

Defense Costs

In addition, the defense department on its own has spent these sums on these military developments in space:

1. $1.5 billion for reconnaissance and intelligence satellites, such as Midas and Samos, which can give early warning of enemy missile shots and scan inaccessible areas of the world.

2. $1 billion to develop large booster rockets, such as the Titan III, Centaur, and even higher engines.

3. $500,000,000 to develop manned space planes and gliders like the X-15 and the Dyna-Soar, recently renamed the X-20.

4. $500,000,000 for research and development satellites, like the early Vanguard and Explorer, and the later Discoverer series.

5. $400,000,000 for communication and navigation satellite systems, like the advent, courier and transit projects.

6. $100,000,000 for the Spadats system of detecting and tracking uncooperative man-made objects in outer space.

7. $75,000,000 to develop a satellite inspection system, which can rendezvous with unidentified satellites to determine their mission.

8. About $500,000,000 for a flock of miscellaneous space research and development projects.

Wilds Loser If Congress Invades Them

From Wichita Eagle

Question: When is a wilderness not a wilderness?

Answer: After Congress has invaded it.

The other day the U. S. House Interior Committee approved a bill establishing a national system of wilderness areas. Fine! But wait. The committee's idea of a wilderness and ours differ widely.

The committee's bill would create a system including at first 6.8 million acres of national forests, with other areas to be added later. But it would permit commercial activity — lumbering, building of logging roads, mining for 25 years, cattle grazing and the like.

In addition, the committee bill would reduce the authority of the Interior and Agriculture secretaries to change the classifications of federal lands. This is the means by which many of the national parks, national forests and wildlife refuges have been created in the past.

Much preferable is the Senate-approved bill which leans more toward the conservationist point of view, providing for setting aside true wilderness areas. The House bill is a result of bowing to powerful commercial interests waiting to use the nation's forests for their own private profit.

It is foolishness to apply the term "wilderness" to an area where the wildlife has been driven away long ago by the hum of loggers' saws and miners' drills.

Looking Backward

Question of Unity, Says Speaker

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Oct. 9, 1962.

Among the many eloquent speeches made at the great meeting in Chicago, in response to the President's Proclamation, none defined the whole question now before the country, so clearly and forcibly as that of Mr. Carpenter (M. H. Carpenter of Wisconsin), which we lay before our readers.

"Wise or unwise, necessary or unnecessary it has gone forth, and the only question now to be considered is, shall the Government be sustained in enforcing it?"

"The ship of State is tossed by angry waves, our liberties, our national existence even, hang on the results of the military operations, and the commander must take the responsibility of directing what shall and what shall not be done.

"We are not Presidents, not Generals, not cabinet officers; the sovereign power of the people is delegated and cannot be recalled until the expiration of the President's Constitutional term of office, and during that term this grave question must be settled for or against the existence of Government.

"The necessities of military success require subordination to one guiding mind, and any policy, even the worst, is preferable to no policy. We are in it long enough and our captain at length has indicated a port and orders us to make for it. It may not be the best that could have been selected; there may be shoals ahead on our course, and breakers ahead, but it is certain we must unite in reaching it or go down in the engulfing flood.

"Upon this ground, and for these reasons, the Proclamation will be cheerfully sustained by all the loyal people, whether they approve or disapprove. In times like this our whole country should become a camp, our people an army.

"Hence, I would support the measure, even though I thought it unwise, so long as it remains the military policy of the country.

"But I do not believe it unwise. At first it was thought that there was a suppressed Union feeling in the South, and while that was believed, of course it was unwise to overlook the past.

"But from all sources we receive the same advice — the Southerners are bitter and desperate. They cannot be won back to duty and allegiance; they are to whip us, or we them."

Veale Hurls Pirates Past Braves, 8-2

Pittsburgh Raps Milwaukee for 13 Base Hits

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves hitting was late and light Friday night and they were defeated 8-2 by the Pittsburgh Pirates whose Bob Veale allowed only three singles after hurling six and two-third hitless innings.

The defeat snapped the fifth-place Braves second five-game winning streak in less than two weeks, but was only their second loss in 10 games.

Donn Clendenen led a 13-hit attack on three Milwaukee hurlers, driving in five runs with his seventh homer, a double and a single. Former Brave Johnny Logan socked a pair of doubles and drove in a pair of runs.

The game opened the Braves final series of the season, ending on Sunday. Milwaukee's Warren Spahn was picked to start this afternoon's game in a bid for his 327th career victory which would make him the winningest left-hander in the history of baseball.

Southpaw Veale, called up from Columbus at the end of the International League season, held the Braves hitless and to a pair of walks until Milwaukee rookie Elhan Blackaby dropped a single into left with two out in the seventh.

The 27-year-old Veale said the pitch was "a good curve and Blackaby was falling away and hit it into the wrong field."

"I've got that close to a no-hitter eight or 10 times and didn't make it," said Veale who had a no-hitter for Wilson, N.C. in the Carolina League in 1959. He also told that he once fanned 22 batters in a minor league game and didn't win.

Veale said he knew he had a no-hitter in the works but didn't feel any pressure in taking his second victory in four decisions.

"I don't pace myself," he said. "I go as far as I can and leave it to the bullpen."

The first Brave to reach base was starter Jim Constable, who walked in the third. Tommie

Set 1st UW-Utah State Home Tilt for 1968

MADISON (AP)—The University of Wisconsin announced Friday that the Badger football squad will play Utah State for the first time on Oct. 12, 1968 in Madison.

Utah State, of Logan, is now an independent after playing for a number of years in the Skyline Conference.

Big, Bad Bears Have Designs On Keeping NFL Slate Clean

Packers Face Bitter Rivals In Key Game

GREEN BAY — Everybody wants to lick the champ!

The Packers were warned thusly by everybody from Commissioner Pete Rozelle down to Charlie Strasser last winter — spring and Coach Vince Lombardi and his cohorts have duly accepted and posted such warnings in their collective noggin.

The Vikings played like maniacs against Green Bay in the opener and somebody said there was such a letdown in Minnesota last Sunday that the Colts had no trouble (34-7).

The Cardinals were aroused to amazing heights for their game in Milwaukee. They fought the Packers down to 17 points — just three in the first 37 minutes.

If you think the Vikes and Cards were killing themselves to knock off the champ, what do you think the Bears will be doing to our boys in City Stadium Sunday?

The Bears have two other reasons for "beating the champ." First off, they are locked in a four-way tie with the Packers, Colts, and Lions with 2-0 records. And secondly, the Bears and Packers happen to be the bitterest rivals in the history of professional football.

Wally Cruise, the Packer scout, noted the other day on his weekly visit to GR that "everybody is waiting for the Packers. But the tradition of this game makes it more so."

This is the 87th Packer-Bear

Zephyrs Hand Squires 20-0 FVCC Setback

Mike Rausch Scores TD on 98-Yard Interception Return

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

DE PERE — St. Mary played its best football of the season in the first half and then coasted to the final two periods to its 20-0 victory over the Fox Valley Catholic Squires.

The triumph was the Zephyrs' first in three starts and gives them a 1-1 Fox Valley Catholic Conference record, the same as and had a fifth and a couple of five-yard walkoffs in the last two quarters.

St. Mary took the opening kickoff on its 24 and didn't surrender the ball until it scored. The at halftime, their offense was all-play was a 68-yard run by most in the second half but Chuck Hoernke, taking the ball a sparkling 98-yard run by Mike Rausch with an intercepted pass later, the junior halfback won gave them a third score with 1:53 over from the four. Tom Simon kicked the extra point.

Hoernke Scores Again

A 33-yard punt which Tom Hernux kicked out of bounds on the De Pere two helped set up the second score. Pennings failed to make a first down and Hoernke returned the succeeding kick from the 45 to the 18. Dick Jensen made five yards on the first play and Rausch added eight in two. After a three-yard loss and two-yard gain, Hoernke circled the left side for his second score. Simon again converted.

Pennings' deepest first half penetration was to the St. Mary 43. Aside from the interception, St. Mary only got to the Squire 25 in the second 24 minutes. Los

2 Bears Out For Bay Game

Ditka Expected To Be Ready For All-Out Effort

CHICAGO (AP)—The unbeaten, but lame Chicago Bears will tangle with the National Football League champion Green Bay Packers Sunday with two stars definitely benched and four others dubious performers.

Owner-coach George Halas disclosed Friday that the linebacker Bill George and halfback Charlie Bivins will not play against the also undefeated Packers in Green Bay's City Stadium.

Additionally, such banged-up Bears as fullback Rick Cisneros, defensive halfback J. C. Caroline, offensive halfback Willie Glaimore and tackle Fred Williams may see limited action at best, Halas reported.

This means Roger LeClerc, only healthy middle linebacker, must replace George and plenty of service for such newcomers as Ron Bull, both as an offensive and defensive halfback. Bennie McRae at left cornerback replacing Caroline, and Joe Marconi supplanting Casares at fullback.

Only ray of sunshine in the Bear camp was a report that end Mike Ditka has finally shaken a groin injury and may be ready for his first all-out effort of the season.

The mighty Packers, triumphant over Minnesota and St. Louis, reign a two-touchdown favorite over the Bears, victors over San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Dodgers Fall Again, Lead Reduced to 1 1/2

Giants Play Colts Today In 2 Games

BY BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers, who were supposed to have things all locked up last Monday suddenly have their backs to the wall, time running out and the pressure mounting hourly.

It was Monday that the Dodgers held a four game lead and an apparent lock on the National League pennant.

Since then, however, Walt Alston's faltering heroes have lost four of five. San Francisco has grabbed three of four and the difference is only 1 1/2 games.

Two nights in a row now the Dodgers have blown a chance to clinch at least a tie for the No. 1 spot. All they had to do was win. Each time they lost, Thursday to the Houston Colts 8-6 and Friday night to the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2 in 10 innings. San Francisco was rained out in its game with Houston and faces a twin bill with the Colts today and a final, wind-up game Sunday.

Los Angeles has two left, both against the tough Cards, tonight and Sunday.

The line for the two contenders looks like this:

	Won	Lost	Pct.	Behind
LA	101	59	.631	—
SF	99	60	.623	1 1/2

The situation remains the same: A Dodger victory or a Giant loss gives the Dodgers at least a share of the top spot. Any combination of Dodger victories and Giant losses totalling two gives the pennant to the Dodgers.

Chief Tourmentor

Charley James was the chief tourmentor of the stricken Dodgers Friday, driving in the winning run with a two-out single in the 10th off Ron Ferrarino. It was the eighth loss in 11 games for Los Angeles.

In the American League, the champion New York Yankees came from behind in the seventh inning and beat the Chicago White

Hal Wentzel Paces Kimberly to 19-0 Win Over Raiders

Back Romps 84 and 25 Yards For Pair of Papermaker Scores

TWO RIVERS — With half-berly's Dennis Seegers recovering on two long touchdown runs, Wentzel wasted little time in the Kimberly High School Papermakers took a 20-0 decision from Two Rivers Friday night to remain undefeated in Mid-Eastern Conference play.

The Purple Raiders received the opening kickoff but fumbled on the third play from scrimmage with Kimberly.

Penetrations Stymied

Three times in the remainder of the first half, Two Rivers penetrated deeply into Kimberly territory, only to be stymied by a stubborn forward wall which failed to give ground when faced with a scoring situation.

Two Rivers' most potent drive was stopped on the 10-yard line late in the second period and the Papermakers still clung to their 6-0 advantage at the intermission.

In the third quarter, Kimberly returned to the attack and once again it was Wentzel who came up with the big play. With the Purple Raiders battling to keep Kimberly deep in its own territory, Wentzel took a handoff on his own 16, slashed through the left guard spot and romped 84 yards for the TD. Kroner's conversion made it 13-0.

The winners got their last sustained drive going in the closing segment as they moved the ball down field to the Raider three yard stripe. Terry Subert took it over to produce the 20-0 final margin.

Manitowoc Hands West 19-13 Loss

Manitowoc dumped highly touted Green Bay West from the ranks of Wisconsin's unbeaten high school football teams 19-13 Friday night using a combination of hard running and crisp tackling to notch their second Fox Valley Conference victory.

Manitowoc took a 6-0 first quarter lead on a 15 yard pass from quarterback Phil Rohrer to Gary Tomchick. Dick Heinrichs added another Manitowoc touchdown in the third quarter skirting left end on a 70 yard gallop. Junior Fred Reseburg plunged one yard for Manitowoc's third score. Both Green Bay's touchdowns were run by Bill Haberman on junks of four and eight yards. In other league action Green Bay East remained undefeated 2-0 with a 27-6 victory over Fond du Lac. Sophomore Bob Duca sparked East running 205 yards and scoring twice.

In Big Eight Conference action two Madison schools, West and East, and Beloit notched their second triumphs to remain tied for the top. West blanked Racine Park 21-0. East downed Madison Central 25-7 and Beloit shut out Racine Horlick 14-0.

Ran Interception Back

Tony La More ran an intercepted pass back 96 yards for his tenth touchdown of the season, turned back Eau Claire Me-mal State's fourth touchdown, because Finley wouldn't inform All-State halfback K. C. Jones him where he stood for next year, was the big gun of the Beloit all-out Lopat joined the A's this year as coach. He scored twice on runs of 10 and 11 yards.

La Crosse Central, led by half-back Dave Colburn who scored his tenth touchdown of the season, turned back Eau Claire Memorial 13-6 in a battle of unbeaten squads in the Big Rivers Conference. Central has a 2-0 conference mark.

Plymouth and New Holstein remained tied for the Eastern Wisconsin Conference lead posting their third straight victories. Plymouth topped Kohler 7-0 scoring with three minutes remaining on

Alabama Rolls to 44-6 SEC Victory

Sophomore Quarterback Again Sparkles for Crimson Tide '11'

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Alabama, looking every bit as mean and powerful as last year's National Champion, holds a tighter grip on its sparkplug. And he proved in his top-ranking status today after a second game he can move his dazzling 44-6 offensive display club—rated first in this week's Associated Press poll—with the Crimson Tide showed a coolness of a veteran.

The brilliant field general in 19-year-old sophomore Joe Namath Friday night. His passing demonstrated

In case anyone has any ideas about stopping Alabama by stopping Namath, backing him is a carried off with the aplomb of a well-oiled ground attack led by junior fullback Eddie Versprille and a rough, hard-charging line

Greene line into thinking he had handed off to Versprille up the middle. While they gang-tackled Versprille, Namath pitched out to halfback Butch Wilson who scampered 7 yards all alone for the first of six Alabama touchdowns.

Namath hit on 6 for 7 passes for 98 yards—giving him a two-game total of 16 of 21 aeriels for 272 yards.

Versprille, a shifty-running 187-pounder from Norfolk, Va., kept the Greene line honest. Darting off tackle, he piled up 97 yards on 13 carries—high for the game. In all the Tide piled up 202 yards rushing.

Wilson lugged the pigskin over the goal line twice on bursts of 7 and 1 yards. Halfback Cotton Clark, a talented receiver pulled in two touchdown passes from Namath and scored a third TD on an 11-yard dash. And Namath himself plunged a yard for a TD to wrap up Alabama's scoring.

The one chink in Coach Paul Bryant's armor—it there is any—is the Tide's pass defense. The tough Alabama line held Tulane to 63 yards rushing. But the sophomore-dominated Greeneries outpassed the Tide 124 yards to 110 hitting on 17 of 28 aeriels.

On its lone touchdown drive, Tulane quarterbacks Bob Boisvert and Ted Miller completed 4 out of 4 passes for 37 yards—the last one a 6-yard toss to end Clem Dellenger in the end zone.

In the only other major Friday night game, Virginia Military defeated Richmond 21-0 in a Southern Conference struggle.

Ohio State, which lost its pre-season No. 1 spot in the AP poll to Alabama this week, opens operations today against North Carolina.

Baraboo, Reedsburg Win
In another league traffic jam, Baraboo and Reedsburg posted victories in the South Central Conference to keep their title hopes alive. Baraboo blanked Prairie 20-0 and Reedsburg edged Richland Center 18-13. Both are 4-0 in the league action.

Wichita State kept its Milwaukee Suburban Conference state championship by picking up victory No. 3 on a 21-6 score over Waukesha. Tom Jankowski was the Bay bellringer, carrying the ball 26 times and gaining 141 yards. Bay held the Blackshirts to 14 yards rushing while picking up 282.

Milwaukee Pulaski rushed past places with Tom Farin leading Milwaukee Lincoln 33-19 on the way to its third City Conference. Rasmussen took second as he scored in the second quarter. The Ram's produced four touchdowns in the second quarter. Dick Bunn was the top finisher for the Terrors as he took yards to build a 28-0 lead.

West Bend took over sole possession of the south half of the Little Ten Conference by turning back previously unbeaten Beaver Dam 19-0.

Home Plate Umpire Al Barlick, center, didn't really shake hands with Don Clendenon (17) after his fourth inning home run, but he did seem to enjoy the congratulations extended by Pirate Johnny Logan. The 3-run blast helped Pittsburgh beat the Braves, 8-2, Friday. (AP Wirephoto)

Wynn Won't Win 300th This Year, Maybe Never

NEW YORK (AP)—Disappointed in a 22 years major league career, Ed Early Wynn, failed three times stretching back to 1939, asked in quest of his 300th career victory, won't try again this season—perhaps never.

The 42-year-old right-hander of the Chicago White Sox left for Los Angeles today to attend a meeting of players' representatives. He won't rejoin the team this season.

Freedom Drops Hilbert From Share of Lead
HILBERT — Freedom High School dropped Hilbert from the Little Nine Conference football co-lead by scoring a 15-12 win in a football thriller here Friday afternoon.

The defending co-champions returned to 1962 title contention by overcoming a 12-0 halftime deficit on a pair of touchdowns by Tony Skenadore, a tie-breaking PAT kick by Skenadore and an insurance safety.

Surprising Hilbert, which had entered the game unbeaten in its first conference football season, scored in the second quarter on a 6-yard smash by Lyle Roehrig. The PAT try was blocked.

Passes to Thiel
Late in the second quarter, QB Jerry Hackbarth passed 17 yards to end Jerry Thiel for a 12-0 lead. The kick again was blocked.

Hilbert held Freedom to a minus 2 yards on the ground and 24 in the air in the first half. Freedom got a touchdown back in the third quarter on a fourth-and-1 drive by Skenadore. The PAT kick was blocked.

Early in the fourth quarter, the Irish tied the game on a 14-yard pass. Glenn Bowers to Skenadore in the end zone. The score was set up by a fumble recovery on the Hilbert 30 by Dick Vandewetter. The extra point was good by Skenadore.

With three minutes left, Hackbarth was hit in the end zone for a safety by Dick Peters.

Los Angeles Signs 233-Pound Putnam, Former Ram Captain
LOS ANGELES (AP)—A veteran Ram, onetime offensive captain Duane Putnam, rejoined the Los Angeles Rams Friday.

The club signed Putnam, a 233-pound former all-pro guard as a free agent.

Putnam played with the Rams from 1952 to 1959. He then was picked up in the player draft by Dallas and subsequently traded to Cleveland.

Cleveland released Putnam when he failed to report on time at the Browns' training camp last summer. Putnam said he had been delayed by business.

WRIGHTSTOWN — The Wrightstown High School football team took over the undisputed lead of the Little Nine Conference Friday afternoon by scoring a 27-7 victory over Winneconne.

Billy Kussow scored two touchdowns in leading the Tigers to their fourth win in as many games. He ran 28 yards for a first-quarter score and 20 yards in the second quarter. Dale Schmidt and John Lamers accounted for the other Wrightstown TDs.

In the first quarter, the Tigers drove 64 yards in seven plays, with Kussow running the final 28. The extra-point run was stopped. Winneconne took the ensuing kickoff and marched down the field for a touchdown. The final score was 27-7.

Bears Aim to Keep Record Clean Sunday

game in a series that started in 1921 when both teams were charter members of the National Football League.

The Bears came up with a sixth injured player — Bill George, the defense captain and linebacker who has a "neck." He joins Mike Ditka, Fred Williams, Willie Galimore, Charley Bivins and Rick Casares in the injury department.

Bear publicist Dan Desmond, during his visit here Wednesday, reported on the five players but didn't say anything about George. The wire services reported on George and George Halas Jr. verified it via phone today.

Chicago may use Ronnie Bull on offense some Sunday. The sparkling rookie who tackles so hard on defense may work behind Galimore and Bivins, although young Billy Martin won a left half job by his good work in the victory over the Rams last Sunday. Martin scored a touchdown and set up another.

On defense, Bull backs up both Rich Pettibon at left safety and Dave Whitsett at right corner. Pettibon, incidentally, is leading the Bears with two interceptions. He has returned them 56 yards, tops in the league. Three Packers have two steals apiece — Hank Gremminger, Herb Adderley and Willie Wood.

The Bears will fly to Green Bay for the first time. It's not because of the railroad strike. They arranged for a United Airlines charter before the strike. They'll headquarter at the Hotel Norland.

Do you know how scarce tickets are for Sunday's game? Packer ticket director Earl Falck asked Packer publicist Tom Miller if he had any spare tickets. A ticket even one, things are tough (and wonderful). Actually the stadium was sold out last spring already.

The Packers and Bears both have good air arms... yet, the teams don't have a receiver among the top 10 in the league. Terry Barr of Detroit is leading the catchers with 12 while six players are tied for the "bottom" with nine.

On the other end, Bart Starr ranks eighth in passing while the Bears' Billy Wade is 13th. Starr has completed 21 of 40 for 281 yards, two touchdowns, 2 interceptions. Wade has completed 20 of 41 for 252 yards, 1 touchdown and no interceptions.

Dark-Horse Dawson Leads Texan Drive

AFL Leaders to Face Winless Buffalo Bills

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Len Dawson, a dark horse in the quarterback plans of the Dallas Texans only six weeks ago, will crank up the American Football League's Western Division leaders Sunday when they face the still winless Buffalo Bills.

In one of three AFL games on the schedule, Dallas will take a 2-0 record against Buffalo, which has lost all three of its games. Denver, second in the west with a 2-1 mark, is at New York in the Titans' home opener while western favorite San Diego, 1-2 is at Oakland, which has lost both starts. Houston and Boston are not scheduled.

Dawson joined the Texans after being released by the National League's Cleveland Browns.

Since joining the Texans, he took over the No. 1 job and was Aaron drew the second walk one out ahead of Blackaby's hit.

The Braves second hit, Bob Uecker's leadoff single in the eighth, led to their first run. Uecker was forced by Lou Johnson who stole second and went to third on a passed ball. He scored on Lee Maye's infield out.

Veale, who fanned eight, gave another walk to T. Aaron in the ninth, a single to Bob Taylor and then walked Blackaby, loading the bases. Bob Aspromonte scored T. Aaron with a sacrifice fly.

Constable, 1 and 1, gave up only a single in the first three innings but the Pirates beat him in the fourth as Clendenon crashed his homer with the singling Dick Groat and doubling Logan on base.

Two-Base Hit
The Pirates nipped Carl Willey for a run in the eighth on Logan's double and Clendenon's two-base blast.

Don Nottebart got two out in the ninth before Veale, who had the Pirates' first hit, doubled to left. He took third as Dick Schofield beat out a roller ahead of Dick Groat's single that scored Veale. Schofield and Groat crossed the plate as Uecker dropped Logan's pop along the first base line. Logan scored on Clendenon's single to center.

agile enough to cause the team to trade veteran Cotton Davidson, No. 1 quarterback the last two seasons, to Oakland, and stymied rookie Eddie Wilson's bid for the top spot, after he seemingly had it made.

Dawson is the AFL's No. 1 passer, having racked up a tidy 67.3 pass completion mark. He has connected with 31 of 46 attempts for 420 yards and five touchdowns, and has not been intercepted.

Chris Burford, who will give Buffalo's secondary its severest test so far, has been his chief target, and is tied for fifth in receptions with 10 for 135 yards and four touchdowns.

The Bills plan to start the veteran Al Dorow, who's shaken off a shoulder injury against New York last week, and will have Warren Rabb in reserve. But Buffalo still hasn't been able to combine its offense, being last in that department. And they'll have to go against the AFL's toughest club defensively.

Frank Tripucka, who has gained 1,098 yards in three games with his passing, will match losses with the Titans' Lee Grosscup, another early sensation since being acquired after his release by the Minnesota Vikings of the NFL.

John Woods, with one professional game under his belt, will against lead the Chargers. He tossed a pair of touchdown passes in his debut last week as Houston whopped San Diego.

San Diego Friday asked waivers on offensive guard Ernie Barnes and activated former Southern Cal guard Pat Shea from the team's "Taxi" squad.

Barnes, in his second year with the Chargers, played at North Carolina College. She earlier this season had been passed over by other AFL clubs when San Diego asked waivers on him.

In NFL activity Sunday Chicago is at Green Bay, Detroit at Baltimore, New York at Pittsburgh, Cleveland at Philadelphia, Dallas at Los Angeles, Minnesota at San Francisco and St. Louis at Washington.

Poor Environment at Early Age Resulted in Bad Start for Liston

Sonny Has Good Qualities That Could Outweigh the Bad

BY CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP) — Sonny Liston knows he has a lot to live down. He can live it up as the world's new heavyweight boxing king.

This massive man of many moods has become America's most controversial athlete because of his past. As champion he promises to wear the crown with dignity. He has many good qualities which could be used to outweigh the bad.

Liston, who never made a serious effort to learn to read and write until about two years ago, was a victim of environment of squalor that made violence his forte both in and out of the ring. "You know what I often wonder about?" he says. "Where were all those people who work with kids when I was growing up?"

"For the first 13 years of my life I lived like a leathern on a cotton patch in Arkansas. I hated home and I hated school. My father was married twice. The first time there were 12 children and I remember none of them. I was one of 13 born in the second marriage.

Brundage, 75, Involved in New Battle

Official Seeks To Enforce Olympic Revision

BY TED SMITH
CHICAGO (AP) — Avery Brundage, a life-long crusader for amateurism in sports, is 75 years old today and embarked on a new battle to keep the Olympic games pure.

The big, broad-shouldered International Olympic Committee President could pass for a man 15 or 20 years younger. He will need all his strength to enforce the new Olympic rule which bans athletes who receive college scholarships as well as those supported by governments as has been charged against Soviet Russia.

Brundage was first elected I.O.C. president at Helsinki in 1924 for an eight year term, and the re-elected for a four year term which will expire when the 1960 games are held in Tokyo.

He declined comment on whether he would be available for another four year term.

"I'd enjoy a little peace and quiet," he said.

Target for Criticism
But Brundage has never been one to turn away from battle.

Over the years he has been the target for virulent criticism as he has been the champion of the American Olympic movement. He has been charged down on every deviation from the amateur code of conduct.

He feels as strongly as ever that an amateur must be uncompromising.

"The commercialization of college sports is a national disgrace," he says. "The vast percentage of college educators are dead against hiring college athletes."

Brundage's new fight for amateurism stems from a spelling out of the I.O.C. of rules that will apply in all future games.

Among the new definitions of a professional promulgated by Brundage are "anyone awarded a scholarship mainly for his athletic ability" and "those whose occupation (studies or employment) has been interrupted for several training in a camp for over three weeks."

Rigid application of the new rules could hit both the American and Russian Olympic teams. Enforcement in both cases will be up to the National Olympic Committee and the amateur governing bodies, which in the case of the United States is the Amateur Athletic Union.

Brundage at 75 faces probably the toughest fight of his life to make the new rules stick. He's not afraid, however. A wealthy man, the Olympic games are his way of life. He draws no salary and even pays his own expenses to and from international meetings.

Nelson, Reynolds Attack GOP Election Foes

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gaylord Nelson and John Reynolds, Democratic candidates for the U.S. Senate and governor, respectively, hammered proposals of their opponents in campaigning Friday night.

Nelson told a Superior dinner meeting that Republican Sen. Alexander Wiley voted on three occasions in the last four years to slash federal funds for redevelopment in economically depressed areas.

Nelson said that if elected, he would vote "exactly the opposite of Wiley" since I believe we must do all within our power to bring prosperity back to northern and western Wisconsin.

Reynolds, speaking at a union meeting in Kenosha, called medical care through Social Security "the logical and sensible answer to the problem of health care for our elderly citizens."

Reynolds said that Philip Kuehn, the Republican candidate for governor, "would prefer that Wisconsin put $10 million in its state budget for a second-rate program of medical care for the aged rather than have Congress adopt President Kennedy's plan for medical care under Social Security."

Worked Me Hard

"My father worked me hard and whipped me hard. If he missed a day, I'd feel like saying: 'How come you didn't whip me today?'"

"Not long after my mother left and went to St. Louis, I followed her. I was 13 then. I was real big even then. School? That wasn't for me. The kids made fun of me because I was so big and I would start fighting."

"I got a job with a construction game. Those guys treated me like a man. They thought I was one because I could work as hard and as long as they could, and I could do more than hold my own in a fight."

"It was a tough bunch. Many of them had been in jail and others were headed there. But they were the only friends I had and they influenced what I did and thought. I never knew I was another kind of people."

"My first serious trouble came when I got mixed up with a bad crowd. One night we wanted to do something exciting. We stuck up a restaurant and I wound up in jail."

In 1950, the big, tough, under-rated kid was flattened by the police on two charges of robbery, and one of larceny. He was sent to the Missouri State Penitentiary for five years, getting off in two on a good behavior record.

"I didn't mind prison," Sonny says. "I figured I had to pay for what I did. It was the first time in my life I got three square meals a day."

Found True Friend
In prison, Sonny found a true friend, the Rev. Alois Stevens, Roman Catholic chaplain who also was the institution's athletic director. Under his tutelage, Sonny became the prison boxing champion.

"It was the first time anyone showed any real interest in me," Liston recalls. "I liked sitting with Father Stevens and listening to him. He told me I had no grace." He says. "The vast percentage of college educators are dead against hiring college athletes."

Brundage's new fight for amateurism stems from a spelling out of the I.O.C. of rules that will apply in all future games.

Among the new definitions of a professional promulgated by Brundage are "anyone awarded a scholarship mainly for his athletic ability" and "those whose occupation (studies or employment) has been interrupted for several training in a camp for over three weeks."

Rigid application of the new rules could hit both the American and Russian Olympic teams. Enforcement in both cases will be up to the National Olympic Committee and the amateur governing bodies, which in the case of the United States is the Amateur Athletic Union.

Brundage at 75 faces probably the toughest fight of his life to make the new rules stick. He's not afraid, however. A wealthy man, the Olympic games are his way of life. He draws no salary and even pays his own expenses to and from international meetings.

Sox and 42-year-old Early Wynn 7-3, spoiling Wynn's third bid for his 3,000 career victory.

In the other games, Minnesota clinched at least a tie for second place in the American League with a 11-5 rout of Baltimore. Detroit whipped Kansas City 7-3. The Chicago Cubs beat New York's Mets 3-2. Pittsburgh stopped Milwaukee 8-2 on Bob Veale's three-hit pitching and Cincinnati took Philadelphia 7-3.

The Los Angeles at Cleveland two-night doubleheader was postponed because of rain. Boston and Washington were not scheduled.

Tommy Davis' single drove in the first inning of the 15th of the season for Davis, but the Cards matched it in the second. St. Louis went up 2-1 in the fifth on a Julian Javier's single, a bunt and Stan Musial's single.

It rocked along that way until Maury Davis singled in the seventh. In the 10th singles by Curt Flood and Musial opened the inning, but the Dodgers retired the next two.

Wynn, seeking to become the 14th major leaguer to reach the 300 mark, had a two-hitter and a 3-1 lead through 6-2-3 innings.

Then Cleve Boyer doubled and Joe Peppitone hit a pinch hit homer. Four more runs crossed after two were out in the eighth, three on Dale Long's homer.

Average Drops
Mickey Mantle failed to get the ball out of the infield in three official trips and his average dropped three points to .319, seven back of Boston's Pete Runnels.

Bob Allison's two-run homer, his 22nd of the season, a two-run pinch single by Jim Lemon highlighted Minnesota's 17-hit attack against Baltimore and helped Jim Kaat to his 18th victory of the season.

Rocky Colavito and Al Kahn each hit two run homers. Colavito's hit 37th and Kahn's 29th, in the Tiger victory over the A's.

The game was called in the seventh because of rain and drew the smallest major league crowd of the season, 588.

Bob Will's two-run pinch double was the big blow for the Cubs as the Mets lost their 119th. Cincinnati jammed in seven runs on 10 hits in the first three innings, then coasted in against Philadelphia.

U. S. Nuclear Weapons Will Defend West Berlin

out of Berlin or to allow the Communists to impede access to the encircled city.

The U.S. government hopes that such unmistakable warnings will prevent any Russian miscalculation.

McNamara went before a news conference only 12 hours after returning from a two-day visit to West Germany, during which he inspected 10 U.S. ground and air units and one West German fighter wing.

"Most Serious Crisis"
Once again, he underscored the belief that "The crisis we face today in connection with Berlin (is) the most serious that we have faced since the end of the Korean War."

High government sources indicated that sharpened U.S. concern over Berlin doesn't stem from any important Communist military buildup in East Germany, but rather from the tone of what was described as a barrage of Russian statements made publicly and to U.S. diplomats privately.

"We have no immediate plans for adding to the combat troops in Europe," McNamara said. But he added: "We have substantial capabilities to do so and do so very promptly."

Cars driven by Kneice and Duane P. Mertes, 32, Milwaukee, were involved in the accident.

About 6:30 p.m. on May 5, a passenger in the Appleton youth's car, Miss Kathleen Gallagher, 17, of 1738 W. Spencer St., received a hor's property was scorched by neck injury and bruises. Mertes was not injured.

Hughes said he would confer with Calumet County Dist. Atty. Franklin Schneider on a possible inquest. The Valley Funeral Home is in charge of funeral arrangements.

Charles Martin, 64, was injured fatally this morning in a two-car collision on State 24 at the eastern limits of Big Bend in Waushara County.

Post Elects Officers
Explorer Post 1 sponsored by the St. Joseph Holy Name Society has elected new officers.

They are Robert Flinnigan, president; Daniel Rigden, vice president; Joseph Wiegand, secretary; and Joseph Wiegand, treasurer. The post now has 18 members.

North Wisconsin Synod Has Fall Session at Dale

Zion United Church of Christ at Dale served as host church for the annual fall meeting of the North Wisconsin Synod, Appleton Region, Wednesday.

The Rev. Harley Tretow, pastor of Zion Church, is moderator of the Appleton region.

Each congregation was represented by its pastor and lay representatives from each church organization.

The opening address was given by the Rev. John Scheib, Appleton, president of the North Wisconsin Synod.

Heavy Rains Plague East

Storm Blamed for At Least Fourteen Deaths in Two Days

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy rain plagued the northern extremes of both coasts to day, heaping more misery on the already-sodden Atlantic coast.

The rest of the nation enjoyed a typical autumn day.

The inclement weather was the remnants of a storm that destroyed property and caused several deaths in the East.

The long-winded storm was responsible for at least 14 deaths and several injuries in five Atlantic Coast states in a two-day conquest. Traffic and other accidents attributed to the weather caused at least seven deaths in New York, three in Massachusetts, two in New Jersey, and one each in New Hampshire and Connecticut.

More than 3 1/2 inches of rain was dumped on Boston suburbs. More than 5 inches swamped Goldsboro, N.C. and Quonset Point, R.I.

Marshals, Troops Mass at Memphis

Ready for Possible Action in 'Ole Miss' Integration Crisis

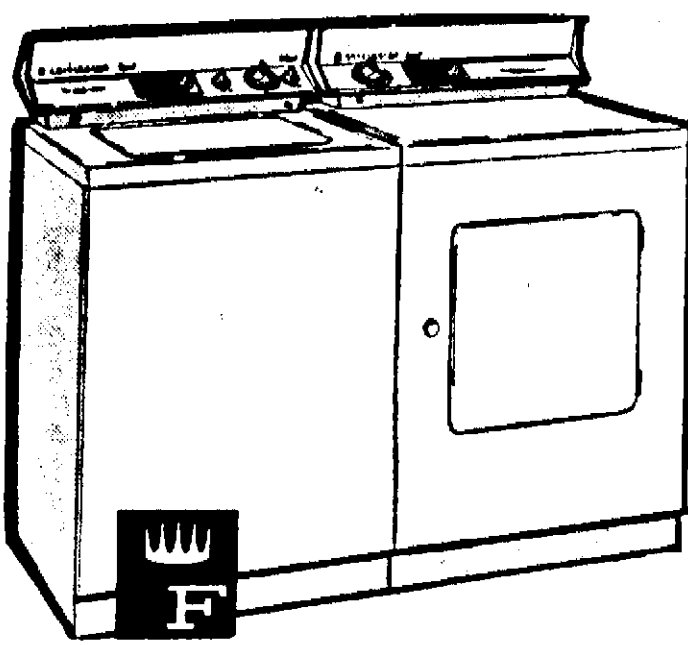

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Hundreds of U.S. marshals and a convoy of Army support troops were massed and waiting at the naval air station here today for possible action in the Mississippi integration crisis.

The marshals swarmed into the base on orders of U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, who has vowed to use all necessary force to have James H. Meredith, a Negro, enrolled at the University of Mississippi over the defiance of Gov. Ross Barnett.

The Army troops, part of an engineer battalion from Ft. Campbell, Ky., are ready to provide food, shelter and other logistical support for the marshals if a showdown of force comes.

Border Patrolmen
Joining the force were a hundred or more border patrolmen who flew in Friday. They reportedly will act as marshals in any move to the Ole Miss campus at Oxford, Miss., some 70 miles to the south.

Four deputy U.S. marshals, specialists in riot control, arrived from San Francisco. Army and Justice Department spokesmen said the troops would not be directly involved in any move to enforce a court order that Meredith be admitted to Ole Miss.

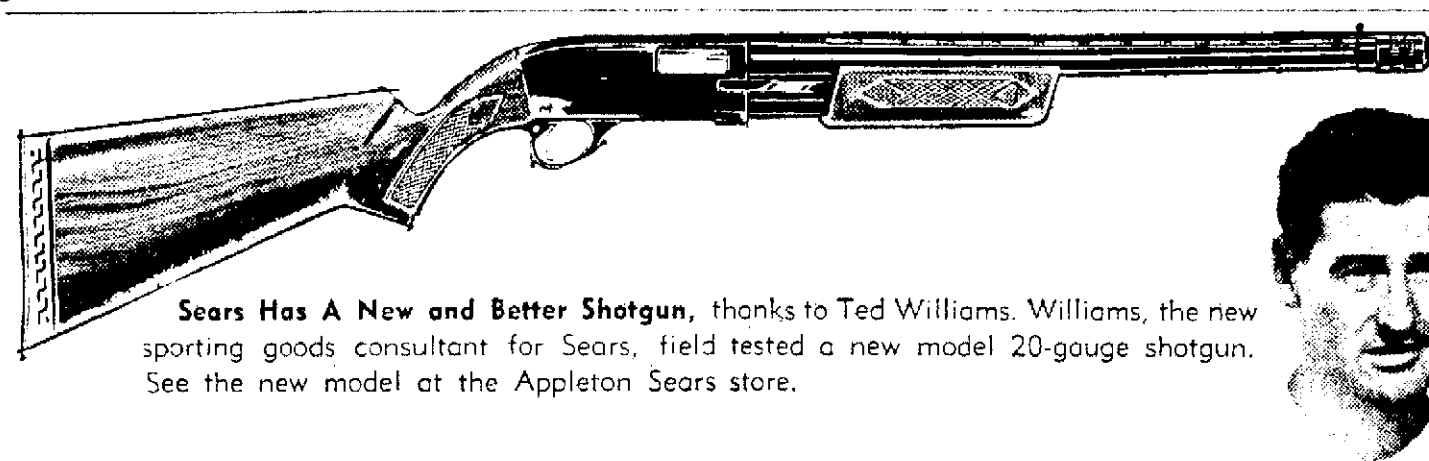

New Washers and Dryers by Frigidaire have a brand new capacity for 1963... ask about it at Home Appliance, 307 W. College avenue. Improvements have been made in home laundry equipment that will thrill you this fall.

Automatic washers and dryers with the capacity for handling 12 pounds of clothes compared with nine in 1962, make up a new line of Frigidaire home laundry equipment which are now being shown. The new products are displayed in the showrooms of Home Appliance Co. at 307 W. College Ave., according to Edwin Hoersch, owner.

Hoersch said that the new line includes six basic washer models, six electric dryers and six gas dryers.

Designing for the 33 per cent increase in washer capacity involved a larger tub, new three-throw agitator, improved motor and drive and larger clothes guard. These and other changes not only have increased capacity by three pounds, but have resulted in better washing performance, easier loading and unloading, more convenient controls and improved bleach and dye distribution.

Similarly, increasing dryer load capacity by 33 per cent entailed changes which have resulted in better air circulation and heat distribution, more uniform drying, improved lint removal, quieter operation and greater serviceability.

Sears Has A New and Better Shotgun, thanks to Ted Williams. Williams, the new sporting goods consultant for Sears, field tested a new model 20-gauge shotgun. See the new model at the Appleton Sears store.

When Ted Williams tested the shells and you'll have a 20-gauge new shotgun for Sears he said shotgun with the killing power of "this is a real beauty. Perfect weight and balance. But let's face it — the gun needs more punch." "When I'm in a duck blind or in the field, I want a shotgun that can bring down game — and keep it down!"

"This shotgun is nice and light. Feels great. But for big ducks or pheasants, it needs more fire-power. Chamber it to take bigger game. Chamber it to take bigger game."

Our trips serve a more useful purpose.

During the past year, I have done rather well in business. Although I don't broadcast this, people know it.

Almost every month, a friend of mine approaches me to lend him some money. What is your viewpoint on lending money to friends?

DEAR CAMPBELL:

I'll answer that with a story. A wealthy man was once stopped on the street and was informed that a "Mr. Jones" had been saying unpleasant things about him. The wealthy man reflected a moment and then remarked, "That's strange. I can't recall ever having loaned money to a man named Jones."

If you value your friends, don't lend them money.

DEAR CY:

I keep reading the Business Opportunity columns of my daily newspaper and have not found an opportunity yet that was worth a nickel. Where else can I look?

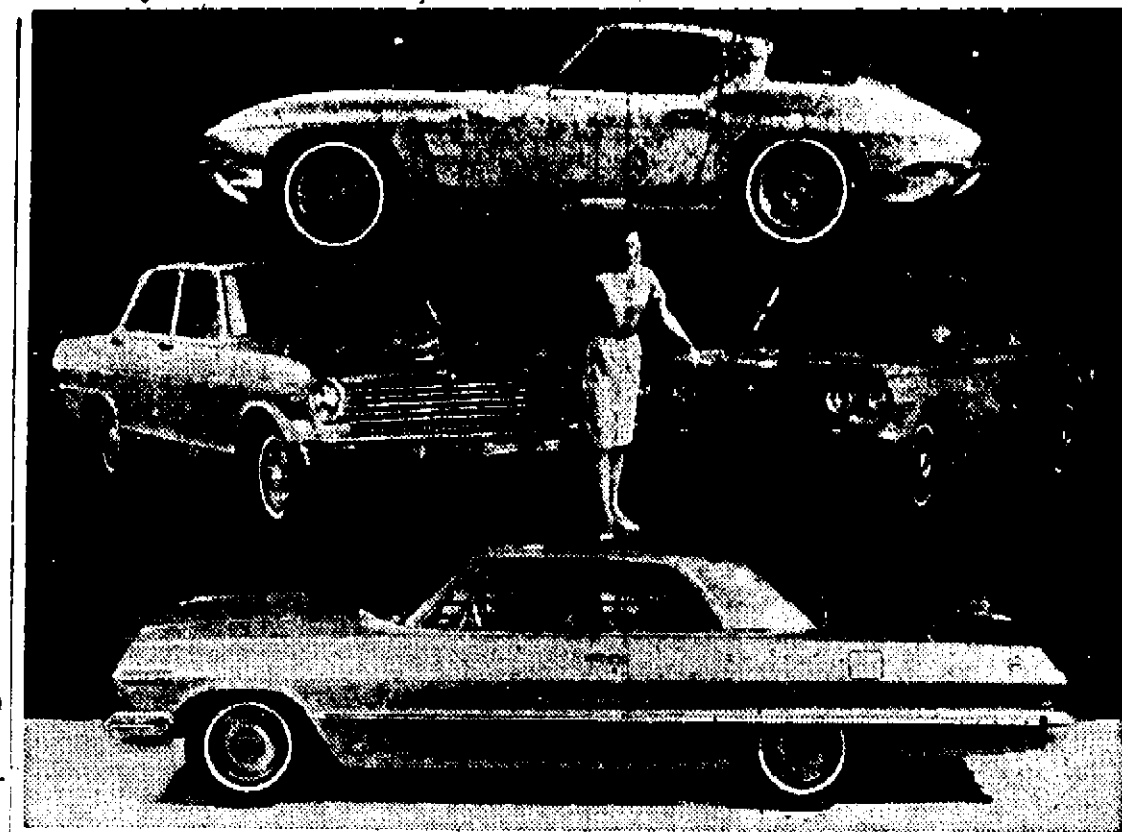

DEAR BUSINESS SEEKER:

You need to learn how to look for a business opportunity. In business there is always change and change makes for business opportunities. Take the electrical appliance salesman that followed behind the crews installing lines on rural routes. He cleaned up because he saw the opportunity born of a change.

It is difficult to consider a business opportunity listing in general terms. Each is a separate situation and until it has stood investigation cannot be qualified or disqualified. Investigate more and you will learn how to sense good business opportunities. Find an opportunity that exists because of a change. Then step on an elevator that is going up.

DEAR CY:

Would the AAA (American Automobile Association) need any service performed by a family when it (the family) takes trips? Besides bringing back pleasant memories, I would like to have

People From All Over the Area are getting their first look at the new 1963 Chevrolets at Griesbach Sales and Service of Hortonville. The 63's were announced, and shown for the first time yesterday at Griesbach's in Hortonville. The firm will be open tonight and every night until 9 p.m., except Sundays.

Griesbach's in Hortonville have a very complete display of brand new 1963 Chevrolets on display. Jerry Griesbach has issued an invitation to all of his readers to see and drive the beautiful and exciting new Chevy cars.

Some people have the idea that a luxurious car must by its nature be expensive to buy and operate. This is not so, Jerry said today. The Chevrolet is not. Admittedly the '63 Chevrolet looks expensive. Its styling is as top-drawer as white linen; its interior is most generously spacious, extremely comfortable, more luxurious than they've ever made a Chevrolet; and its Jet-smooth ride is what you might reasonably expect in a limousine at a far higher price.

Chevy has self-adjusting brakes to save you time and expense; a new way to guard its body against rusting out of the rocker panels under the doors; and a new Delcotron generator to provide a more ample electrical supply and keep your battery living longer.

Now there are four entirely different kinds of cars in the Chevy line — the new Corvette, the Chevy II, the Corvair and the Chevrolet Impala.

It's Chevy showtime... come in and join the crowds at Griesbach's Sales and Service at Hortonville.

Kaukauna Representative Attends Course in Livestock Nutrition

Ken Moldenhauer of Kaukauna Sales-Service Representative for Walnut Grove Products Co., Inc., recently completed a 5-day course in livestock nutrition and management at the feed manufacturing firm's Central Training School in Atlantic, Ohio.

Mr. Moldenhauer was one of 16 selected representatives of the company from eight states attending the school.

The course provided advanced training in livestock nutrition and livestock management techniques, and was concerned with their practical application to livestock production.

This is part of a continuous program of education and training to assist Walnut Grove Sales-Service Representatives in offering greater service to livestock producers throughout the Corn Belt.

Mr. Moldenhauer serves livestock producers in the Townships of Kaukauna, Freedom, Seymour, Osborn, Oneida, Vandenberg, Buchanan, Black Creek, Howard, Hobart, and Lawrence.

Gen. Gruenther Can't Attend Conference

Red Cross to Have Replacement by Early Next Week

General Alfred M. Gruenther, president of the American National Red Cross, will be unable to attend the Wisconsin State Conference of the American Red Cross in Appleton Oct. 12.

Gen. Gruenther, who was scheduled to deliver a key address at the two-day conference, underwent surgery in Washington, D.C. Wednesday for a lung inflammation.

Red Cross officials are working on a replacement for the general, and expect to have an announcement on this early next week.

More than 500 members of Red Cross chapters from throughout Wisconsin and Upper Michigan are expected to attend the conference on Oct. 11 and 12. In addition to the main addresses, a series of workshops and special sessions will be held on Red Cross topics.

Four Red Cross conference workers will be interviewed on the conference at 3:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 6, on WFRV-TV. They are Kenneth V. Meyers, Oshkosh, state chairman; Mrs. D. R. Morrissey, Appleton, volunteer field consultant; Mrs. C. J. Schmidt, Appleton, home service director for the Outagamie County chapter, and Theodore Penneck, Green Bay.

Pleads Guilty To Burglary

Greenleaf Resident Caught in Act at Chilton Break-In

CHILTON — John Myhill, 31, route 2, Greenleaf, who was captured near the scene of a Chilton break-in, pleaded guilty of burglary when he appeared Friday before Calumet County Judge D. H. Sehora.

Judge Sehora ordered a pre-sentence investigation by the State Department of Public Welfare and set Oct. 19 as the date of sentencing. Myhill is being held in jail here.

He was captured by Undersheriff C. J. Kosmosky and Chilton policeman, Warren Jodan, Thursday night after he fled the scene of a break-in after being surprised in the act. Myhill surrendered to store owner Arvin Courtice and his wife when the Courtices discovered him in the store about 8:50 p.m. Thursday. He fled after Mrs. Courtice called police.

Myhill gained entry to the store by climbing to the roof, smashing a skylight and lowering himself through it to the second floor. He rifled a cash box, tampered with the safe but couldn't open it and was fitting himself with a pair of boots when the Courtices walked in the store.

Police learned that Myhill is employed by a Chilton industry but was not at work Thursday. He is married and the father of five young children.

Passenger Hurt As Car Hits Pole

KAUKAUNA — Miss Delores Coster, 1402 N. Alvin St., Appleton, received cuts to the face requiring 14 stitches and a cut right knee requiring 15 stitches when the car in which she was a passenger left the road and struck a utility pole in the 400 block of Lave Street about 2:15 a.m. today.

Driver of the car, Mrs. Mary Kempen, route 2, Kaukauna, received bruises and suffered shock. Both are being treated at Kaukauna Community Hospital.

2 Injured When Cars Crash in Funeral Procession

KAUKAUNA — Jasper Liebergen, 48, route 3, Kaukauna, and Mr. Albert Poppe, 521 Michael St., Kumebrly, complained of neck injuries as a result of a three-car accident about 9:45 a.m. Friday.

The mishap occurred when Liebergen, Albert Poppe, 54, and Elmer Nooyen, 75, of 4315 E. Wisconsin Road, Appleton, were driving in a funeral procession. Liebergen and Poppe stopped suddenly and the Nooyen vehicle hit Poppe's, pushing it into the Liebergen car.

Both were treated by the family doctor and released.

Discuss Space Threat At Madison Meeting

MADISON (AP) — The Soviet space threat was among topics discussed by 90 unit commanders and staff officers as they took up midwest defense plans for the coming year in a three-day conference that ended Thursday at Trux Air Force Base.

Discussions also took up general safety measures to be followed through the Air Defense Command's 30th Division, headquartered at Trux. The division is responsible for air defense in a 10-state area.

Here's a Birds-Eye View of a "temporary" barricade erected on Front street this week to prevent traffic on Memorial drive from routing through the residential area to miss a stop light. Proclaimed by some as, "a

No, It's Not a Berlin Wall

Front Street Barricade Irks Motorists; Residents Pleased

Appleton has a Berlin Wall? Not on your life!

But something has sprung up on Front street at Memorial Drive which has upset quite a few people and pleased others.

The street department this week, acting under direction of the common council erected a temporary barricade to prevent traffic onto and from Front street. This is at the west end of the street only.

However, the temporary barricade to a lot of motorists, who were used to dodging traffic signals and using Front street as their route, looks a bit more than temporary. "It's a Berlin Wall," says one of the complainants. A resident on the block exclaimed, "It's just wonderful!"

Steel Posts

The "wall" extends completely across the Front street entrance to and from Memorial drive and is constructed on steel I-beam posts driven several feet into the ground, with a strip of metal across the ground level. For good measure, the street department drove several steel stakes in front of the barricade and painted them orange.

Nothing will get past that barricade unless it flies over and, that's the way it was meant to be, according to some city officials. While some people are thankful the barricade exists, others are irate, resulting in complaints.

The city clerk has received telephone calls at his office during the week.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell says he's had them, too.

Aldermen Chided

Some aldermen claim to have been chided by motorists that the street should be left open and that "something was slipped over on them".

City Planner-Traffic Engineer Walter Rasmussen has heard rumbles but indicates that closing of the street is necessary to keep traffic flowing smoothly on Memorial Drive and eliminate "a serious traffic hazard".

The alderman in the ward, R. P. Groh, can't understand all of the excitement over the barricaded street. He said such a move has been recommended by consultants in several reports received by the city. "Closing of the street is in conformance with the traffic recommendations," says Groh.

Followed Proposal

Groh indicated that his resolution to have the street blocked off temporarily spoke for itself and was in keeping with the proposal made by the engineers and the regional planning setup, and had the "blessing" of the state highway engineers.

The closing of Front street was prompted by the unfavorable situation that exists at the intersection of Memorial Drive and Prospect Avenue, according to Groh. The alderman said motorists as well as residents would be protected by the barricade and commented, "Let's hope this will get something going to correct the extremely serious traffic problem at Memorial Drive and Prospect."

Action Legal

Some city officials have raised the question informally as to whether the action of the council was legal. They say a street-closing hearing should have been held.

Groh's adopted resolution specifically states the barricade will be temporary and of six months duration.

A spokesman for the street department said the barricade is "par for the course" and no different from other temporary street closing "walls" erected in the past.

"We were told the street closing was just a temporary deal," said the department spokesman.

Appleton Woman Sentenced on Check Charge

Mrs. Mary L. Schabo, 23, 517 N. Appleton St., who told the court she wrote two worthless checks on a dare, received two concurrent 30-day sentences in the Outagamie County jail for attempting to pass the checks.

Mrs. Schabo's probation in Winnebago County for similar offenses was revoked. She appeared Friday in Outagamie County Court, Branch 2.

Mrs. Schabo was arrested Sept. 10 by Appleton police for attempting to cash two checks in Appleton stores. In both cases, police said, she changed her mind at the last minute, and did not pass the checks. Mrs. Schabo told the court that several friends had dared her to attempt to pass the checks. She had been placed on probation in June in Winnebago County.

Play These Games With Friends in Dried Leaves

BY CAPPY DICK

Here are some games to play in dried leaves before they can do so. When time is called, the leaves on the sticks are counted and the player who has appeared the greatest number is the winner.

Each player requires a long stick sharpened to a point at one end. At a signal, they start spearing leaves to see who can gather the greatest number on his stick before time is called by someone acting as scorekeeper.

The rule is that the lancer may use his hand to slide the leaves upward on his stick, once they have been speared but they real-ly must be on the stick before he can do so. When time is called, the leaves on the sticks are counted and the player who has appeared the greatest number is the winner.

Another game is an obstacle race. Rake the leaves into two long "mountain ranges." A player stands at the end of each range and at a signal they begin to race, each running through the center of his row of leaves. The winner is the one who is first to reach the end of his mountain range. Because the leaves should be piled knee deep, the runners won't make much speed, but they'll have great fun.

For a third game each player rakes together a pile of leaves and hollows out a place in the middle to represent a bird's nest. One player "it" because he has no nest of leaves must try to capture one belonging to another player. The other players stand in their nests.

Each of the players in the nests must adopt the name of a bird and when "it" calls out "Robin change with Oriole" the two players with those names must change places as fast as possible. As they do, "it" tries to get into one of the nests himself. If he succeeds he is no longer "it" and the player who is without a nest becomes "it."

Heat Good Method of Aiding Arthritis Victims

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is a heating pad good for arthritis? It seems to relieve the pains in my arms and back at night and in damp weather. But I was told its use dries up the bones. Now I am worried.

A M

Go right ahead with your heating pad. It won't dry up the bones or do any other damage. Heat is one of the universally approved ways of helping arthritis victims. It doesn't make very much difference how the heat is applied — by pad, hot water bottle, heat lamp (with discretion, sitting near the fire or whatever. Any method that is handy is fine.

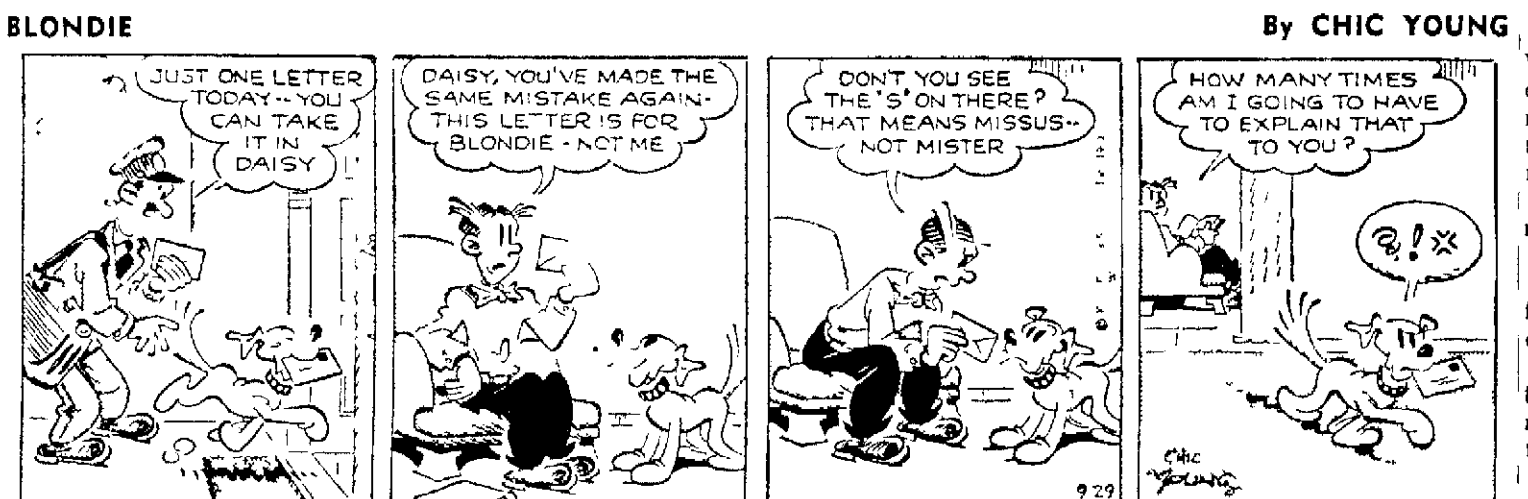

I hope whoever gave you the dismal misinformation about the bones drying sees this article and stops passing that story around. It would be too bad if anyone sacrificed the help of heat pads because of such an incorrect scare story.

(My leaflet "Don't Quit Because of Arthritis" is available to any reader in return for a stamped, self-addressed envelope and five cents in coin for handling charges. Requests should be addressed to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper.)

Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain plain impetigo. Once someone has it, how do you get it out of the place?

Lesson in English

BY W. L. GORDON

Words often misused. Avoid the use of "peruse" when you mean merely to "read." "Peruse" means to read carefully and critically to examine in detail.

Often misspelled: Councilor (a When used to mean a place of deep mud or mire it is pronounced as "sloo." When used to mean castoff skin it is pronounced as "shuff").

Often misspelled: Councilor (a member of a council) Counselor (an adviser).

Synonyms: Rabel hubbub confusion, clamor, jargon, din, discord, clang.

Word study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word desultory, jumping from one thing to another without rational connection aimless. Success cannot be achieved with such desultory methods.

Rusk, Gromyko Talks Planned

UNITED NATIONS N. Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk was reported today planning a new meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to discuss Berlin and possibly Cuba.

Official U.S. sources disclosed this as Rusk continued his round of diplomatic talks with an informal luncheon meeting of foreign ministers from the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization countries.

This group was expected to give special attention to the situation in Laos, South Viet Nam and Cambodia.

Coast Guard Hears Distress Signals After Ships Collide

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Coast Guard early today received a distress signal from the 735-foot American tanker Titan, which said it had collided with the Colombian refrigerated ship Rio Magdalena 20 miles south of San Francisco Bay.

The Coast Guard said no word had been received from the 338-foot Colombian vessel.

There were no reports of injuries.

A Coast Guard spokesman said one of the ships was hung up on the bow of the other.

Three cutters and a tug were sent to the scene.

Little Change For Cadillac

Fins Remain for Another Year in GM Luxury Car

Chicago Daily News Service

DETROIT — Tradition is not just a matter of pride with Cadillac. It's an element of success.

So the manufacturer will live up to its past in 1963 models by keeping a strong tie with recent designs of the luxury car.

Fins will stay with the biggest-selling luxury car for at least one more year. After all, Cadillac started the tail fin business in the late 1940s and something like that isn't dismissed lightly, even if every other auto maker has dispensed with them.

The 1963 design has the same long, low fin of 1962, but it is a shade smaller. Side styling has been smoothed and the grille changed somewhat.

But owners of recent model Cadillacs need not worry that they are driving obsolete cars. Cadillac doesn't change that drastically from year to year.

Perhaps that's one reason the General Motors division is the leader in its field and expects to continue as number one.

Harold G. Warner, GM vice president and general manager of Cadillac, told newsmen here today that the division expects to sell a record 152,400 cars this calendar year and 1963 will be even better.

Warm Water From Cyclotron Won't Harm State Lake

MADISON (AP) — Warm water from a proposed $100 million atom smasher won't hurt Lake Kegonsa nor its fish scientists and state conservation officials decided.

The water would be discharged into the lake, just outside of Madison, at a temperature of 90 degrees, at a rate of 9,000 gallons a minute after it had been used to cool the atom smasher. Under present plans, the installation would draw its water from wells.

The proposed atom smasher is a project of the Midwestern Universities Research Association (MURA). Plans are now being considered by the Atomic Energy Commission, which if it grants approval, would pay the $100 million cost.

Lawrence F. Motl, chief engineer for the Conservation Department, said MURA's calculations show the discharged water would not raise the lake temperatures to levels that would harm fish or plant life. The water would be free of any radioactivity.

$75 Taken From Hilbert Station

HILBERT — About $50 to $75 was taken from Don's Texaco Station here sometime Friday night or Saturday morning.

The break-in was discovered by station owner Don Rickert when he opened the station at 7 a.m. today. Entry was gained by smashing the window in the rear of the station.

The money, mostly in small bills and change, was taken from a cash box. Nothing else was reported missing by Rickert.

C. J. Kosmoskey, Calumet County sheriff, is investigating.

Suit Taken from Car

Robert L. Lang, 532 W. College Ave., Appleton, told Appleton police a suit, valued at $85, was taken from his car parked at the rear of his residence.

Fire Destroys Barn at Farm Near Sherwood

SHERWOOD — Fire destroyed the barn and granary on the Leonard Kasten farm, 1 and one half miles north of Sherwood on County Trunk M about 3 p.m. Friday. The cause has not been determined.

Included in the loss were 1,300 bushels of oats, 6,000 bales of hay, 700 bales of straw, one calf and 20 chickens.

The Kasten children noticed smoke coming from the barn at 3 p.m. Within minutes everything was burning. Town of Harrison volunteer fire departments 1 and 2 were at the scene.

Fire Chief Norbert Holzschuh, Sherwood, estimated damage at $20,000. It is partially covered by insurance.

State Doctors Start Plan for Older Citizens

MADISON (AP) — The State Medical Society reported today its program to bring health care protection to older Wisconsin residents via the Wisconsin Physicians Service is under way.

The effort is coordinated with a national Blue Shield senior citizens program to offer persons 65 years of age and older protection against sickness and injury costs.

The society said there are 204,736 persons in the 65 and older age bracket in Wisconsin.

Premium rates for senior citizen coverage for surgical, medical, hospital and nursing home expenses are $9 per month per person. If only surgical-medical coverage is bought, the cost is $3 per month.

Peace Lutheran Adult Instruction Class Scheduled

NEENAH — Peace Lutheran Church will introduce a new adult religious information class at 7 p.m. Sunday under the direction of the pastor, the Rev. Kenneth Wessel. The first meeting of the class will be held at the recreation room of the newly constructed parsonage at 1228 S. Park Ave., Neenah. Succeeding meetings will probably be held at the homes of parishioners.

The course is designed to acquaint adults with the fundamental teachings of the Christian faith and the practices of the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod. The class is open to all adults regardless of their religious affiliations. Adults may enroll by calling the pastor prior to Saturday.

Attic Theatre Renews Directors' Contracts

Don Jones, Phil Dixon to Continue in Management Jobs for New Season

BY JINGO

A new season under old management has been assured at the Attic Theatre as the board of governors announced the renewing of the contracts of Don Jones and Phil Dixon.

Jones will have his second year as managing director and Dixon will add one more year to a notable record as technical director and production chief.

The board has reported the practice, followed since Mrs. Zoe Cloak, the theater's founder, retired as managing director, will be continued of having a guest director for one play of the theater's summer season.

The guest director arrangement is made necessary by Jones' employment as a teacher in the East and the need for getting the season prepared prior to his return to Appleton.

Although the season has not been set as yet, it is planned to have a musical production. Jones made his directorial debut with the Attic in the production of "Everything Goes" and produced

Jack Gleason Returns to TV Tonight

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-7:30 (Channel 2) — Hail Jackie Gleason! The erstwhile king of Saturday night returns to his domain again with something he's calling The Jackie Gleason Show. The American Scene Magazine. It's nice to report that basically, this is the same type of show he used to have. It starts as it always did, with 16 Joan Taylor dancers; they'll use the same overhead camera to show the girls at work. Then comes Jackie's monologue, generally unheated. The first of these sketches is "The Reluctant," a musical satire of the Eliot Ness affair Jackie, as Reggie Van Gleason, appears with Frank Fontaine, Frank Marth and Sue Ann Langdon in this, with original songs by Jimmy Shelton. Mary Rodgers and Martin Charmin Jackie does his Joe the Butteer bit, with one added element — the fabulous Crazy Goonham appears in the flesh played by Fontaine. Lastly, there's The Honeymooners, with Art Carney back and Miss Langdon as Alice this week, in a riotous sketch. Jackie and Art try living in the cellar as a civil defense test. Gleason girls introduce the various segments.

6:30-7:30 (Channel 11) — Premiering tonight is The Roy Rogers and Dale Evans Show, a kind of Lawrence Welk with spurs. This opening show was taped at the Seattle World's Fair and includes such items as the YMCA Boys' Choir from Racine, Wis., singing "It's a Big Wide Wonderful World" and Rogers' horse, Trigger doing the twist.

6:30-7:30 (Channel 4-5) — Sam Benedict continues his legal juggling act—three cases in the air at once. Tonight, he's defending an elderly lawyer (Claude Rains) in a disbarment procedure handling the divorce case for a much-married woman (Linda Watkins), and appearing for the plaintiff in the case of a little boy (Joey Scott of National Velvet) badly bitten by a dog.

7:30-8 (Channel 11) — Mr. Smith Goes to Washington, debuting tonight is a far cry from the great movie of that title. Fess Parker plays the senator, a just-folksey county boy set down plumb in the middle of Washington, where he spouts rustic sayings and out-shickers the slickers.

7:30-8:30 (Channel 2) — The Defenders hits one of its favorite themes again tonight—the right of a bad guy to a good defense. Dennis Hopper is this particular crumb, an idle rich kid who whistles away the hours painting swastikas on synagogue doors. In the course of one such foray, a man is killed.

8-10 (Channel 4-5) — Saturday Night At the Movies goes Western tonight with "Broken Lance," a 1954 film that is full of sweeping scenery and strong emotion. Spencer Tracy plays a cattle baron with Richard Widmark, Hugh O'Brian and Earl Holliman as his sons (Color).

8:30-9 (Channel 2) — Hate Gun Will Travel tells a familiar story of Paladins (Richard Boone) who assigns himself the job of keeping Ben Johnson alive. Years earlier, Johnson had committed murder in self-defense and Paladins advised him to give himself up.

9-10 (Channel 2) — You'll see some fancy broken — field personal-ality switches on Gunsmoke tonight. The hero is Gunt Reynolds who joins the program's permanent company in this episode. He plays a half-breed who learns to hate the whites when two no-goods kill his white father. He joins the Comanches and becomes a specialist in murdering whites. When he's captured by Matt Dillon (James Arness), he switches back to an Indian hater.

Good Tickets Available at Box Office

Two-Year-Old Aurora Higuera seems on her way to becoming a Spanish Shirley Temple. The baby accompanied her mother to the film studio in Madrid because no babysitter was available. Mamma was a Spanish film extra in "55 Days at Peking." Director Nicholas Ray couldn't resist such an appealing face and created a role for the youngster in the Bronston production that stars Chailton Heston, Ava Gardner and David Niven.

Auld Lang Syne to Ring Down Last Curtain on Broadway's 'Fair Lady'

BY MILT FREUDENHEIM

Chicago Daily News Service

NEW YORK — The final curtain music will switch from "Auld Lang Syne" tonight for "My Fair Lady," Broadway's oldest, richest, and, many feel, all-time best musical.

After six years and six months on the main stem, Alan Jay Lerner's and Frederick Loewe's record-breaker will settle down to pleasing the country and the world outside New York.

"Fair Lady" still is playing in Denver, London, Rio de Janeiro, Berlin, Munich, the Swedish provinces and Perth, Australia.

The New York parent edition, which opened at the Mark Hellinger March 15, 1956, attained 2,717 performances, a world's record for musicals.

It surpassed London's "Chu Chin Chow," 2,238 showings and "Oklahoma!" previous U.S. leader at 2,212. Only the non-musical "Life With Father," 3,224, and "Tobacco Road," 3,182 have lasted longer on Broadway.

New Foreign Shows

New "Fair Lady" productions are in the offing in Belgium, Norway, Finland, and South Africa. The future also holds the movie version, for which a record price of $5,500,000 changed hands.

When the curtain falls at the Broadway Theatre, Margot Moser, as Eliza Doolittle, will be in the role earlier played by Julie Andrews (two years), Sally Ann Howes (one year), and Pamela Charles (two years).

Understudies who sang Eliza included Lola Fisher, Helen Abola, Rosemary Rainer, and Karen Shepard, an understudy to understudy Lola Fisher, who had a night of Flory when both Sally Ann and Miss Fisher were ill.

Michael Allinson finished in the part of Henry Higgins, played also by Rex Harrison, Edward Mulhare and Michael Evans.

Recording Success

Harrison's 9-cent royalty on the original cast record album of the show has brought him $315,000, possibly an all-time high for a single day's work in a musical.

That recording set another mark—selling more than 3,500,000 copies.

The show also has been recorded in Swedish, Spanish, Dutch and German.

250 Actors Busy

On Broadway, 3,750,000 watchers added to the record gross of $20,508,267, more than "Oklahoma!" and "South Pacific" combined. There were 60,000 who paid $3.45 each for standing room.

The estate of British playwright George Bernard Shaw has received 3 per cent of a world-wide gross of some $60,000,000 so far for providing the original bas-

Broadway Theatre, Margot Moser, is in Shaw's "Pygmalion" on stage, "Fair Lady" has kept 250 actors busy in Cecil Beaton's costumes over the years. Three principals went the full distance: Gordon Dilworth, now playing Eliza's father, Olive Reeves-Smith as Mrs. Hopkins and Lady Boxington, and Rod McLennan as Jamie, one of father Doolittle's rowdy pals.

Two singers, a dancer and the company hairdresser also have been with it since the beginning. So have 15 musicians, the head electrician, and stage manager Jerry Adler, who started rehearsals in October, 1955.

Historian Richard Maney collected his press agents' share of the treasure while 76 other musicals opened and closed in New York. These included such long runs as "Music Man," "Most Happy Fella," "West Side Story," "Flower Drum Song," "Gypsy," "Fiorello," and "Bye Bye Birdie."

Sales, 4 cars state brand barrel

Marion Barber Sells Shop to Wausau Man

MARION — Ren Parks, who has been in business here for 28 years sold his barber shop to John Clifford, Wausau. Clifford will take over Monday.

When Parks first came to Marion the shop he was to work in burned to the ground his first night in town. He worked with Reinhardt Nehring and later bought out Nehring and moved to his present location.

After a vacation in the West Parks will become a salesman for Appleton Barber Supply Co.
